FOREWORD

This book offers new solutions !!!

It was a long and deep reflection of author Bosiljka Radosevic about economics, the crisis of the economy and as a consequence the crisis of society (or perhaps in reverse order - depending on how your opinion after reading it).

The author sovereignly uses her knowledge and her interests and loves it. She possesses the experience of working in the real sector, which must not be neglected. She does not aspire to keep her knowledge for herself but offers solutions (fresh and innovative) and wants to share them with as many people as possible and encourage them to understand the processes, to get to get to understand the wording and to be inspired to act. She does it in a simple and understandable way for each of us.

As we read this book we should think of Dalai Lama's thought: "If you think you're too small to change something, try to sleep while your mosquito is in the room." (Katica Piljek)

AUTHOR'S INTRODUCTION

- CRISIS is a more noble term wealthy elite has given to the imbalance of the economy and disparity in the societies caused by their crime
- Small people are punished by the law for crime
- Powerful and greedy write laws on their own in order to justify their crime, which they then call CRISIS

Desire is more important than feelings. We should desire, not feel.

ECONOMIC BALANCE, when there is a balance between

RESOURCES	OBLIGATIONS
OFFER	DEMAND
(accumulation of debt)	(accumulation of capital)

If Capital takes too much money for its needs (wealth), it immediately strikes an imbalance. Resources and liabilities are losing value, and medicine, food and utilities are gradually growing - INFLATION (2-3% annually).

ECONOMIC BALANCE when there is a balance between: Resources - Obligations Supply (debt accumulation) - Demand (capital accumulation).

I'm not writing this book in order for it to become strictly a scientific work, but as a philosophical, strictly subjective annotation and explanation of the problems we face in economy and society.

It is my personal philosophy of economy and society.

With this work I am aiming to inform you on the real reasons for the crisis, to instruct you on the basics of economy and in a certain way to entertain you with it as it is written in a journalistic style and as simplified so in the future you would be able to escape the traps of prejudice and platitudes that politicians use as a tool to justify the state of our society.

They repeat same phrases without any real meaning over and over again and are enabled by your ignorance and neglect to inform yourself with the truth.

I gathered the data and interpreted it in the real way – with information that give solution.

I would like to start with two introductory information:

1. PROFESSIONAL - my competence is based on the knowledge gained at the Faculty of Economics with emphasis on information system design, I have also obtained a degree in Banking and Financial Markets, gained working experience at the bank and currently work as a bookkeeper to several private companies. My opinion prosperity is not achieved unless labour and knowledge are invested in. Until now politicians have searched for the answers consulting various experts: IT specialists, mathematicians, even physicists (this has been done in Switzerland where they are in despair to solve the problem of overestimating their currency). They do not allow economists to solve the problem in economics. It is claimed that economists do not even know what the problem is. The problem is that politicians are actually afraid of us. They refuse to listen to our warnings and advice, but pay us to do just what the masters of this world want.

2. The WALL OF IGNORANCE will appear in front of you - after reading this book you will become a new person. I will instill a new knowledge in you that brings about full understanding and gives you all the answers to the problem of crisis, and gives you tools to solve it. I will instill a new ways of thinking in you. After reading this book, when you find yourself in front of a man who struggles to understand what's going on with the economy in the world - you will want to get answers right away, but you will face a big problem; where to begin from and how to explain it clearly in a couple of words. You will in fact have a great bag of ignorance in front of you, which you will not be able to fill so easily. Few words or sentences will not fill that bag, because it is beyond the context of your new thinking - YOUR NEW PHILOSOPHY. This will seem like putting just a few wheat graains in somebody's completely empty bag. The grains will reach the bottom of the bag and will do nothing.

Between you and other people there will be a WALL OF IGNORANCE that is impossible to overcome, and it protects the Masters of this World to do whatever they want to do with us.

After reading my book, you will have a completely different concept of thinking. And with a few sentences, you will not be able to explain the essence of the problem to another man, because that will all be outside of your new context of knowledge.

This is why it is very important for my lecture to be recorded and distributed among the masses. Croatia and a synchronized English version.

More than the crisis we are destroyed by IGNORANCE.

We can all recall our school years when excellent students were dismissed and called "nerds". Even then 99% of people sealed their destiny and decided that certain concepts and meanings better be ignored. When experts repeat certain phrases as an explanation for the crisis, they just say, "Okay, they probably know what they are talking about. I do not care about it and I'm not going to be involved" – with that sentence the grains they collected are immediately thrown at the bottom of their empty "bags" which is not knowledge but ignorance. Since our early days we have been programmed to ignore things that are not of any interest to us and so we continue to do our whole life. Experts (educated intellectuals) become a middle class who listen to rich ignorant people and poor and ignorant people become even more fooled and confused.

This is why I would like to make recording of my lecture in the form of visual and oral presentation as we have been taught to absorb information this way. This lecture will become a powerful weapon in the struggle for our rights and interests.

I. HOW DO ECONOMIC CRISIS HAPPEN

The main reason for all economic crises, and thus the crisis of society, through the whole history of the development of human civilization, is when MONEY disappears from the economy.

Society and economy have been governed by various kind of rulers closely surrounded by a group of “masters” or what we can call “grey eminence”.

Power in society can only be achieved in a group:

- 1) as a first step a LOBI is organized (groups of people of different orientation, connected by family and / or friendships),
- 2) With the goal of becoming ELITE, the richest and most powerful group in society,
- 3) When they come to power, then they share positions and available resources of society
- 4) since masters have no responsibility for their actions, using the resources available to collect all of the resources into their suitcases - banks – computers.

During Imperialism - Roman, Spanish, English ... and other empires, the assets of the masters were equal to the cash mass that was deposited and hid in their amphoras or suitcases. But with the emergence of banks, and especially computers - assets are rapidly growing in relation to the money mass and accumulating much faster as a kind of bookkeeping category for measuring one's power in economy and society.

CASH = ASSETS in the Roman and Middle Ages

CASH < ASSETS during the period of and informatic revolution.

In times when economy and society started to develop, any goods were considered money, just as like the weeds of living beings. However with the development of technology - money has become the blood of a living organism that circulates through the economy and helps in the development and creation of new organs (goods, services, buildings and ASSETS).

This is the reason the phenomenon of money disappearing from the market I called the "GOLDEN JUG SINDROME". Clay pot was the first bank in which golden coins were hidden by the first greedy man for his ruler. They had an excess of resources and at those times of the first civilizations created the first crisis in society.

This is what this syndrome looked like throughout history;

1.1. Roman Empire

The most powerful empire, before Christ, was the Roman Empire. However the other empires of that era functioned in the same way. At those time market exchange was based on currency exchange rather than the exchange of goods.

Golden coins were made by Caesar with his figure on the coins. He gave it to the army and citizens for their services and goods, and spent it on building cities.

But masters slowly "picked up" all the gold from the market. They owned slaves and most of the resources at that time.

If Caesar decided to reach into their pockets, no matter how powerful he was, he would have paid by his life. The Senate would proclaim him crazy and soon he would pay with his life. The only solution for CRISIS in this economy and society, was for Caesar to enter the military conquest - looting of gold, which meant new CASH, new slaves, new cattle, and the land for the masters. Only for this purpose Caesar was allowed to borrow money from his masters.

Is it not a little strange that the Roman Empire had so many crazy rulers and most of them ended up with violent deaths? The Roman masters wrote the history and it is clear why they did not write a single letter about their bloody greed but only about crazy emperors who needed to be eliminated.

1.2. Medieval Empires

All Medieval Empires: English, Spanish, Russian, Austro-Hungarian, Turkish had continued to maintain the same principle - expansion of the empire – they used to colonize countries to return money to their economies, but with a little detail – the kings and the emperors were installed by religious institutions. They became the masters on earth and the churches were not to be blamed for anything.

As the Church collected the tithe from the people, the king or the emperor was allowed to do the same, which means that then the taxes become an obligation. However, that did not bring peace and balance to the economy and society.

Gentry had an extremely big appetite. They owned the people and the land and collected all of the money from the market. Crisis in society, above all a hunger among people, leads to the collapse of the empire; the examples are the French and the October Revolution. Simply explained, the empires would fight wars to carry out the plundering of gold and / or the take over the colonies; Crusades and Turkish conquests.

The economy of the time could not be further developed without the new amount of silver and gold for coining the money, so they had to fight for it. Spanish, British and other colonialism. A super-powerful medieval priesthood insists that the poor be OBIDIENT to the ruler and the church. Even today, the church speaks of humility, but it seems to have long forgotten what economic benefit this word was to the Church and the Ruler.

The greater power over the gentry the caesar, emperor or king had the better their people lived.

1.3. Industrial Revolution

At the time of the Industrial Revolution, significant scientific achievements and technological advances have emerged, but more importantly the PAPER MONEY as well, which meant a major turning point in the release of the economy and the market from limited resources for money/gold making.

Industrial revolution had created a need for a larger amount of money to enable the economy to develop more efficiently and quantitatively, which means that the gold standard based on the gold coin could no longer be tracked. Paper banknotes helped in the development of industry and society.

In America, money was printed (dollars) without any cover in gold and the economy began to grow rapidly, significantly and rapidly. English imperialists were not pleased with it, because they were already very eager to maintain the power of their currency. They introduced a new practice of paying taxes in silver and gold in British Kingdom. It was the time of great inflation because the dollar could not buy enough silver and gold to pay taxes. The riots started which turned into war and the Americans threw out the British empire from the American continent.

For the same reason, the civil war started in America as the trade between the industrialized North and the prosperous South, with slaves and plantations, could not have been carried out in the same currency. North preferred a paper dollar, and the South preferred gold.

When society and economy started to be defined by the circulation of paper money on the market, money trading itself appeared, as well as cash derivatives - securities (stocks, bonds, ...), ie financial markets emerged.

Like so many times in history, gentry's appetites grew - by speculations-fraud, all the coin money was deposited in banks which guaranteed gentry's money not to be touched by anyone.

This is the time when term Kapital was mentioned first. But it is only a bookkeeping category, a number in a bank's book. If the bank has no banknotes in its treasury, that capital has no value or meaning. It is destroyed as well as the money. That is what happened in the 30's of the last century.

Karl Marks said an interesting thing, which I will try to interpret in my own way - when gentry collects all the money from the subordinates they begin to collect money from his ranks. That meant the disappearance of weaker nobleman and capitalists of the new era. Because in the crisis the old rule is true: "Might is right" The one who succeeds in "kidnapping" all the gold or banknotes is at last the winner of the economic and ultimately financial war.

This period generated two great World Wars, because it was very important whose banknotes would have the highest value on the market, and their value unfortunately grew as the states, the owners of that money, were more successful in conducting war. Unfortunately, even today, there has been no change in the mindset of people. Most still think that the crisis will be solved by war.

Whenever there are financial problems, America starts a war and the stock market automatically grows.

1.4. Modern-day economics

This era of economics could be marked with the appearance of computers and Internet.

In order to fully understand the paradigm (form of functioning) of today's finances, and thus of today's money, one needs to be introduced to some details of the modern economic system.

1.4.1. Economic system

Balance of economy, economy, consists of the following elements;

RESOURCES	OBLIGATIONS towards
Natural resources	State
Manufactured and built goods
Energy	Capital
Human potential
Finance	Workers

Society has the resources aimed at making money on the market. The money is used to meet society's needs, obligations towards the State, Capital and Workers. Using its abilities, based on the knowledge and abilities of its political and financial elite, it participates in the world market (it actually runs economic and financial wars).

Growing appetites for money on the part of the Rulers of Society diminishes the value of all the resources in order for them to gain privileges and the power. Corruption (bribe of foreign rulers) and the sale of property are the only "virtues" available to their intelligence.

Not all resources are commercially viable. The intire value of resources does not mean that they will be cashed. Only cashed resources allow for a distribution to CAPITAL, STATE AND WORK.

1.4.2. Financial system

Financial Instruments	Investor Obligations-KAPITAL
money	Institutionalized shares	Private securities
currencies
derivatives

I have made a simplified system of financial markets. On one hand there are instruments used to get profit. Only money has a real value, and the rest are virtual-bookkeeping (mere numbers on the computer screen).

When a stock market breakdown occurs, only the number and code of the computer defining the money when it is associated with the last owner's code actually becomes the real monetary value (true and real), all other values-numbers (stock, currency, bonds and derivatives) they nullify, become zero.

Institutional investors in the market, such as; banks, pension and investment funds, insurance companies etc. They actually collect the savings of the population and "play" with those numbers in the financial markets around the world. The real players are those who have the power to move all their money under their code in the computer network when the financial system crashes. Institutional investors, and thus the citizens who gave them trusted their money at their disposal, will not get any penny.

If you think I do not know what I'm talking about, I'll give you this information. When Professor Leko led us to the Zagreb Stock Exchange, they told us that the broker could only refuse the offer to buy some securities twice, for the third time he did not have the right to do that. I wondered if there is any book-keeping of these values that are happening on the market. They said that absolutely did not exist. This is a purely statistical record of numbers - mere numbers on which our destiny depends.

Do you remember when 2008 crisis came about because of speculation on stock exchanges with mortgage loans, then the Rijeka Bank had major stock market losses and their chief broker was blamed. He was not guilty of being the last in the chain who had to accept all bids.

Now let me describe the balance sheet of a bank that has a balance on our troubles;

Assets-Liabilities	asset-liability
Property	CAPITAL
Investment in securities	Household savings
Days Loans	Credits
+ CASH Asset	-Money-DEBT

As you can see, the bank's position in the bank can be positive, ie the bank may have money in the asset and may be negative, ie it is obligated by the financial market because it has taken a short-term loan for its liquidity.

The Bank's business rule is that the money standing is a "missed opportunity for the air", but more recently the use of other money is also an opportunity for even greater profit. What tells you that the money you think you have in the bank actually does not really exist and you have no chances of getting your money because the financial value of the savings and the capital has so grown that the number that represents the CASH (the bookkeeping money code is 1000) is actually too small.

1.4.3. Occurrence of crisis in e modern society

RESOURCES	OBLIGATIONS towards
Natural resources	State
Manufactured and built goods
Energy	Capital
Human potential
Finance	Workers

Commitment to Capital (whether it is institutionalized or large-scale private) affects the economy on the principle of scissors – CAPITAL CUTS a share of GDP that is used for further wealth accumulation:

This leads to two conclusions:

1 / The higher the part taken by Capital, the shorter is time for the outbreak of the crisis. From the standpoint of society, the greedier the elite is the closer we are to the economic imbalance and political and war conflicts.

2 / The greater the part that Kapital gets from the economy, the smaller is the amount of money for trade with other resources in the economy. This gap is filled by borrowing by the state and population of the state or by the emission of new money (a new number next to the 1000 code) that creates borrowing and an increase in government debt with its Central Bank. This is now in effect. This also means that we move from crisis to recession which (if nothing changes) is eventually followed by depression and inevitably the war.

Recession occurs when the economic system slowly "" - it goes according to the principle = fall in sales - fall in production - fall in wages - fall in sales - fall in production Whatever monetary mass is created the state debt slowly drains it into financial markets. That is a direct course that recession takes. The real market increasingly is directed towards trading with medicine, energy products and food.

Depression happens when the production is completely dead, except food production that is insufficient to feed the hungry. The organization of the economy does not work for the basic needs. Of course, this rarely happens as war economies rapidly develop and are directed into warfare. It does not matter who is the enemy as long as there is war. Politicians choose the enemies based on the ideological, racial or religious affiliation.

Today's financial system functions on a particular principle of chains of luck. According to that principle, the one who enters the chain first has the highest premium-profit. Financial system works the other way around - the one who first exits before the breakdown of the system is the one getting everything (all of the money). The rest are left without anything. This system can not survive if there are no new investors on a daily basis - new money, either from institutionalized or private investors. Because only new money means the growth of stock exchange values and earnings.

Not all of the money stays on the stock exchange. The other part enters and exits (these are so-called primary emissions of shares and bonds). The money that constantly circulates on the stock accounts is for secondary issues (the constant resale) of the securities. This amount of money has to grow steadily and there has to be a way to get it from the real market (goods and services).

The new-born elite's appetite for money grows as they realize that the resale of assets, primarily mortgage loans, can quickly accumulate aaaaaa money and invest in stock exchanges. By 2007, within 7 years, the value of the stock exchanges rose 2.5 times which is an average of 35% per year.

If we try sell someone a mortgage loan with a discount (a nominal value reduction) of 10% - you still have 25% of annual earnings in financial trading.

But the cracks on this ship appeared a lot earlier. One "capable" manager of one large international corporation, saw an opportunity in the globalization of capital movements and moved production to countries with cheaper labor. If a worker in the United States gets $20,000 to $100,000 a year, one can only imagine what a cost reduction would be if a worker is paid only $100 per month - even less than that. The hero received wages and bonuses in billions. The rest of the managers followed his example and moved their production as well.

Lower wages and cancellations have resulted in the failure to repay large mortgage loans. This stock exchange shock has spread from the United States to the whole world. Within a short period of time, the money began to disappear from the stock market and there were thousands of thousands of losses. The US state borrowed $787 billion and promptly put it on the market to start trading and stop the collapse of all securities. Paradoxically and unbelievably the managers at the stock exchanges immediately began to pay off "earned and unpaid" bonuses with the attitude: «Who cares for the rest of the world. We have freedom and right to do what we want.»

When the crisis arose, one of the brokerage managers told the senator "I'm too greedy, I can not control myself, it's your obligation." This is a man who annually earns millions of dollars says to a man who earns a few hundred thousands. He can buy him out to do exactly what suits him.

Now the earnings on the stock exchanges are miserable in comparison to the earlier "golden" times. And for that reason, from the financial markets, there are requirements that changes are made in the current economic system.

Capital has multiplied by money circulation over the years through markets and the banking system (deposit-loan-deposit-credit, etc.). So the number, that marks Capital, was growing in relation to the number that denotes the money supply.

I recently heard that the monetary mass has grown to approximately 300,000 bln. (Probably $), and the annual consumption ie .GBP-global gross product is 100,000 bln., for which is less than 10,000 billion of money supply. That means that all of other monetary mass ended up in financial markets, ie, 300,000 billion ended up as deposits in the bank or 900.000 billion are securities on the market.

If only about 10,000 billion are in real world markets, it means that 300,000 billion is on the stock exchange as multiplied Deposit ie Capital (either institutionalized or private);

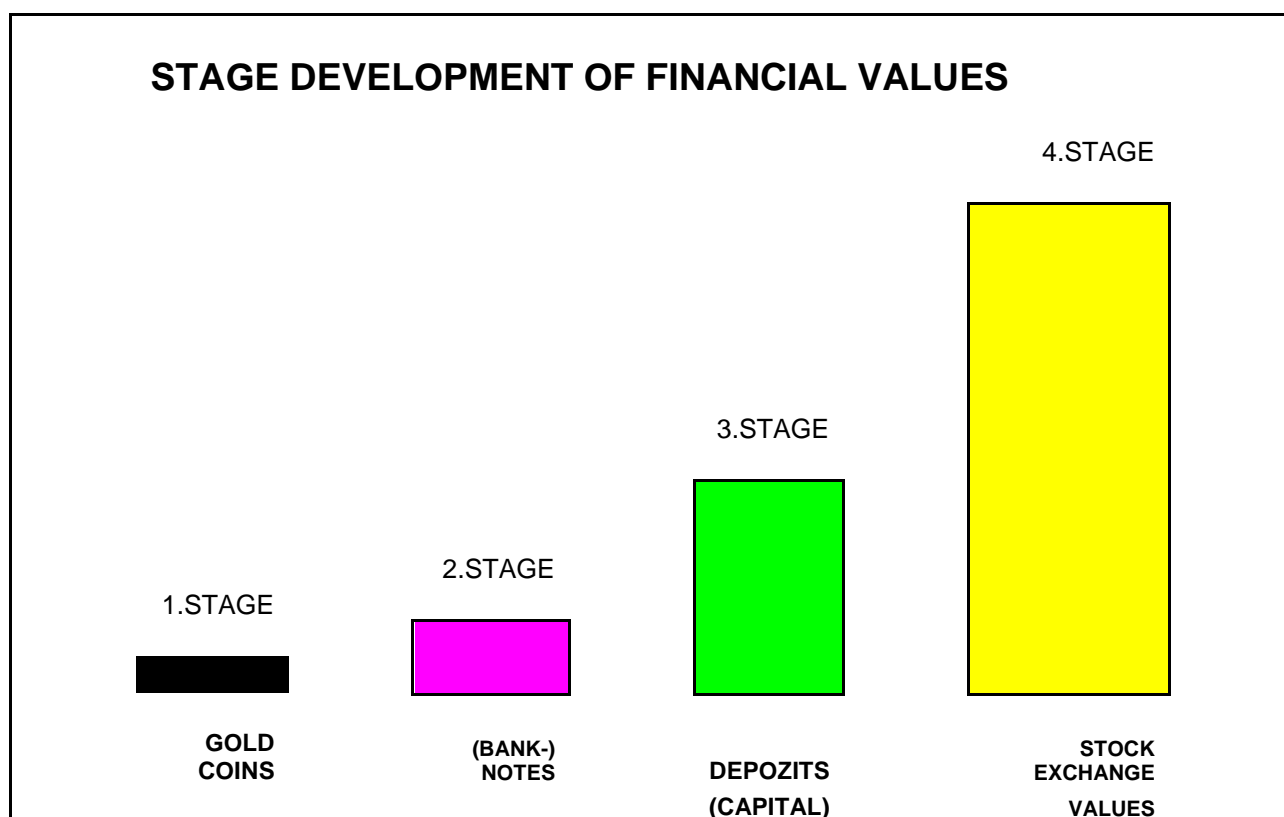

300,000 bln. - BANKING CLOUD OF DEPOSIT

900,000 bln. – BUSINESS FOG OF CAPITAL> Money mass

When the stock markets collapse KAPITAL = CASH FLOW that will be the property of only the most powerful individuals, will end under three codes in the computers of the most powerful banks (the currency code, the code of the money owner and the number that represents the amount of money).

EXCHANGE VALUES are mere statistical numbers - data in financial market computers.

For example, we say that we have 1 million shares that have a value of $ 100 million, if only we sell them for $ 110.00, the total value of all shares rises to $ 110 million. It is evident that these are only ordinary numbers that do not have coverage in bank deposits, let alone in money, ie in monetary or in money.

To clarify the notion of DEPOZIT, it is just an ordinary bookkeeping category of banking accounts that does not have any real value in money. And for those numbers, the deposits also do not have enough money in the circulation.

DEPOSITS and EXCHANGE VALUES are derivatives of MONEY, created by the circulation of money through the economic and financial system. DEPOSITS created the banking system, and the EXCHANGE VALUES created financial markets.

When stock exchanges are completely cracked, because their stitching behavior can not be controlled by anyone, THROUGH THE NETWORK OF THE COMPUTER WILL NOT SAVE MONEY MONEY and will end up under 3 numbers;

1. Sheet of money owner
2. Currency code (most likely Swiss franc)
3. number is the amount of money that has stuck under these first two numbers

Now only 6% of the human population owns 95% of the capital, the rest is the "free money" that serves to sustain life, the real economy of goods and services. The remaining blood of the economy in a moment will pick up shocked capitalists in panic to preserve the last coin of their capital.

What is the real money money in the banking system is obtained by simple mathematics
 $DEPOSITS - LOANS = CASH + CASH (COWS + COINS)$.

All deposits in the Banks and all securities in the Stock Exchanges are actually just numbers, but only with the difference that Deposits of the bookkeeping category in the balance sheets of banks that do not have even coins, and the securities do not have their own accounting form - they are just mere statistical numbers of the Exchange.

MONEY is no longer gold or paper, but cleans the COMPUTER WRITING that circulates through Internet databases; only a small part is PAPER for eager people who see it only occasionally.

Capital is consistently putting a lot of pressure on the reduction of workers' and state income, it must have the highest yield. It is a well-known fact that profitable corporations are still being realized, and workers and the state are increasingly in debt.

By reducing the earnings of workers and the state, increasing its share in the DBP, Kapital cuts the branch on which it sits. After the pension system and the health system collapse, this crisis, now a recession, will end in the depression of the economic system, the entire capital and all the money will emerge from the economy. Because, remember, Capital is only a bookkeeping category, for which there is no adequate cash.

Deposits and Capital, as well as the value of all real estate, are NOT MONEY, but they are values generated by the circulation of Money through the Economy. Only in Roman times and the Age of the Middle Ages, money was the ROBA rights, which changed for other commodities on the market. By the emergence of the Bank, the financial values that accumulate as a common bookkeeping category are evolving. While stock exchange values are numbers that are not at all in books, they already exist as mere numbers in databases and the online stock market.

In a world where resource constraints (natural and industrial goods) are limited, you will not be rich if you are not impoverished by someone by force or by some system (with certain paravels of the game).

There are five types of exploitation and a growing impoverishment of the underdeveloped:

- 1) MILITARY - COLONIZATION
- 2) TRADE
- 3) CREDIT
- 4) CURRENCY
- 5) GLOBAL

1. MILITARY IMPOVERISHMENT

Military exhortation emerged at the very beginning of the formation of social life, while there was still no money, in tribal organized societies where the struggle for territory and the conquest of the territory meant a bigger catch. Here there was a struggle for the exploitation of natural resources, which meant impoverishment and injustice for those who were left without a rich catch.

With the emergence of money, primarily golden money, and trade between countries, there is a problem of the outflow of gold money from countries of weaker natural resources into countries rich in natural resources. Since gold money exists in limited quantities, it is understandable that the deduction of such a means of expressing the value of goods means weakening demand, falling standards and impoverishment of the state. In view of this, the more developed countries (Greeks and Romans, later Portugal, Spain, England, USA) have opted for military conquest of countries richer in natural resources, but with underdeveloped military bases and weapons. In this way, not only natural riches are exploited, but free human labor (slaves) or cheap human labor is obtained.

It can be concluded here that in order to satisfy consumption in richer countries, military intervention or colonization was necessary - because a limited amount of money could then collapse between the states of the colonial empire, remaining in the hands of the rich of one state and paying taxes only to one state.

2. IMPOVERISHMENT BY TRADE

Industrial revolution and above all the development of better means of transport, movement of goods began to cross the boundaries of colonial empires. Thus, the emergence of cheaper industrial goods on the markets of less-developed industrialized nations means their impoverishment because they sell their natural assets at significantly cheaper prices in order to reach industrial goods which, due to more developed technology and production in large quantities are cheaper than domestically manufactured goods (in craft workshops).

There is a double impacts of impoverishment. By using market-consumption cash is gradually pouring out, which means a decline in standards and weakening of domestic production, which is therefore unable to return its demand-money to domestic products on its products. From this it is visible that the more developed industrialized countries are getting rich through trade and at the same time make industrial underdeveloped countries poorer. Here as a synonym for money mass, and thus potential demand, I use consumption rather than production as it is in capitalist economic theory.

3. IMPOVERISHMENT BY LOANS

Industrial underdeveloped countries did not have a developed consumption (demand, market) and above all monetary mass that could absorb the production of industrialized countries. Developed countries give loans with very high interest rates to underdeveloped countries, under the motto of production developing. In fact, what they do is sending obsolete technology and changing the cultural habits of the indigenous population, converting them from tribal to industrial with the needs of a social standard that exists in developed countries. This is how developed countries through the loans receive their consumption.

The more developed countries are using loans to exploit consumption resulting in reduction of money mass created by the loan, by reducing the interest rates on unfair loans and outflow through the already mentioned so-called trade impoverishment. In order to meet the needs-consumption that is artificially created impoverished countries are again being indebted and thereby increasing their impoverishment. Naturally generated consumption is when a society creates its production and consumption from its own resources within the boundaries of its state.

4. IMPOVERISHMENT BY CONVERTIBLE CURRENCY

The power of rich countries and above all the victory in the struggle between the East and the West (socialism and capitalism) is ensured through modern financial markets within which the currency market has developed. Currency market is a result of increased international circulation of goods and services, increased consumer demand for foreign means of payment. Through the currency markets a mechanism for valuation of national currencies is created.

This is where the system of supply and demand creates inter-currency relations where the currencies of more developed industrialized countries are more valuable because they are more sought after for purchasing mostly their commodities, while at the same time in industrially underdeveloped countries currency becomes less valuable, along with all of its resources (raw materials, products and work).

On the other hand, there were socialist countries that:

- do not have a colonial past, and therefore have no free sources of natural wealth that enabled capitalist countries to fully satisfy domicile consumption and growth of social standards (DBP's social gross product) which led to the development of art, science and industrialization
- they did not conquer international markets, which could sell their goods as capitalist countries did in colonized or lending countries, and later capitalist countries gained market access through media (film, television, radio) - advertisements.

The currency of the underdeveloped and socialist countries was not present before at the currency market. These countries are still receiving money today by exporting or borrowing in a convertible currency. Money here is no longer just gold, loan but it must be a convertible currency. To get the money, weaker industrialized nations have to export their natural wealth.

Internal consumption, interest and debt recovery requires new borrowing in convertible currency.

By suppressing gold as money, there is no more single currency for all markets, but it is a currency that is politically fit and comes from politically similar countries. Those are mainly underdeveloped countries that were mostly organized as dictatorships, but because of the dangers of socialism these countries experience the entry of foreign capital for which there must exist a firm political guarantee that it will not be nationalized. Such countries have gained their currency convertibility on the exchange rates of some developed countries, but not the market convertibility, because there is no demand for them, but because of a political reason.

If we neglect the existence of political problems, what is important here is that more industrialized countries by introducing creditworthiness, above all by currency trading, create rivalry among themselves, and there is also a growing weakening of the poor countries' purchasing power. At the moment, especially the medium-developed or even more developed countries whose imports are bigger than exports, are now under attack, so they are forced to buy more currencies of the country where the goods came from. Because of the law of supply and demand, the demanded currency is rising, and the less demanded currency falls – not to get in this unenviable position these countries get in debt in a stronger convertible currency. This happens because domestic money is less valuable and exports bring the less convertible currencies of the country from which the goods are imported into the domestic market. In order to compensate for the shortage of that currency and to reduce demand on the domestic currency market, countries are getting loans in the same currency. And in order to get loans the state needs credibility, which is also seen in the stability of the domestic currency. In this way, the circle of riches is increasingly narrowed, and the circle of the poor expands, with the simultaneous effect that the rich are richer and the poor are all the poorer.

5. GLOBAL EMPOWERISHMENT

«Global» means termination of borders for money, merchandize na people flow. The question arises: WHAT WOULD THAT MEAN AS A CONTINUOUS IMPOWERISHMENT OF UNDERDEVELOPED COUNTRIES?

By developing financial markets, above all stock trading, general opinion is created that everything connected with production and service has its price.

In order to evaluate, there should exist institutionalized prerequisites such as a stock market to which foreign capital is directed. But the real goal of this game is giving value/price, not even the just one to merchandize that did not have price until now – because there is a market that dictates the price, and it will determine the lowest price. That is just one way of impoverishment by globalization.

Another way is formal termination of borders, termination of customs to all the foreign merchandize which leads to entry of cheaper merchandize bought in convertible currency – this destroys domestic production (which means higher unemployment rates) and on the other hand countries are forced to borrow convertible currency to finance domestic consumption and to return debts.

The third form of impoverishment through globalization is the outflow of experts, thus diminishing the possibility of industrial development of the state.

There is no need to criticize a market economy because it allows profits to be synonymous with wealth, and it is in human nature that everyone wants to be rich rather than poor. What we can hardly agree with is excessive money-stacking in one place and money needs to be the link between production and consumption - if there is no money the whole system does not work - production (unemployment) ceases, which results in falling demand or consumption (hunger). It is commonly known that there has been a rise in prices in socialism, and in capitalism the decline of prices - above all the price of labor - which automatically affects the level of consumption of goods.

There is something else to add, that is to say, one can conclude from everything else so far. Through the history of economic system development - the development of a particular business function had a significant influence on the ability to generate as much profit (entrepreneur-individual or corporate) as:

1. the procurement function - when cheap raw materials were acquired in the colonies, making the production of goods much cheaper
2. the function of production - when technology development, during the so-called industrial revolution in the 19th century, increased productivity and reduced costs per unit of product
3. Financial function - investing in securities of efficient companies provides large profits, but due to speculation, the loss of a large part of the money is returned in the loan circulation
4. Credit function – massive crediting by state, corporations and consumers themselves, but stronger pressure on consumers begins with
5. the sales function - primarily by marketing, where even psychology studies are used to stimulate spending, as well as self-promotion through mass media (radio, television, internet)
6. Supervising function or management - its subfunction is information, analysis, prediction and development, that can be divided into two main types
 - a) market surveillance - where products are distributed for different market segments - so that products are developed for a particular type of consumer whose consumption is stimulated and they are more likely to buy the product (women, children) or for different markets there are different prices the corporation adjusts to purchasing power, habits or upbringing of consumers
 - b) cost control - here it is, above all, recently trying to reduce the cost of labor so that production goes to countries where the salaries of workers are considerably lower.

This is also due to the large accumulation of debts and receivables.

Consumption is increasingly being paid by government and customer debt, because:

- there is a decrease in income from wages, taxes, contributions,
- a part of BDP that goes into savings and profits is growing

At this point, whoever comes up with money and manages to keep it in a bank that is liquid, ie, which guarantees the the amount as high as the deposit of the owner of the capital. Such banks may only be Swiss banks. The others can only rely on the fact that they can get to cash or gold. Although you have money deposits in banks you do not really have anything if your bank has no money in the account.

From the following picture it is evident that steady growth is due to customer debts, which mainly consist of the state and the citizens. In the GDP, there is an increasing pressure to increase the profit-making part, and it is increasingly trying to reduce the share of wages and revenues of the state, and hence finance spending more and more by borrowing by the state and citizens.

The greater part of the GDP becomes savings or profits, the shorter the cycle to the next crisis.

According to data from 2016 for RH.

IMPORT - 20 mlrd $

EXPORT -12 mlrd $

TOURISM -8 mlrd $

Balance of payments is at zero.

Tourism was also worth $ 11 billion, but foreign consumption alone is considered to be an influx of foreign exchange.

If we spend $ 4 billion from tourism immediately to feed tourists, and spend the remaining $ 4 billion to feed the population of Croatia, it is clear that food was imported because it was cheap, and Croatian agriculture slowly but surely got destroyed.

When we switch from the kuna to the euro as a payment method in Croatia - the initial money supply would be 8.2 billion euros - which corresponds to foreign exchange reserves. If, for political or economic reasons, tourism is reduced by only 1 billion euro, this means that in 8 years the Croatian market would be left without money, ie there would be empty space without money for normal economic activities - trade, consumption and production.

Croatia's money supply in 2014 was HRK 61.4 billion, which is approximately EUR 8.2 billion or $ 11 billion.

A similar thing happened to Greece. When Greece was declared indebted and refused to get loans, imports slowly began to take in all the euro in her market, the euro leaked out of Greece. Therefore, Greece returned its currency drachma, the economy fell by 25% (by a quarter), citizens' incomes fell, which reduced imports and brought the country into economic equilibrium (consumption = supply, import = export). Had Greece not done this, it would have gone bankrupt.

Indicators of interest rate debt for 2017 in millions and%:

Average interest on debt %	10,5%	8,0%	6,0%	4,0%	2,0%
Interest in GNP %	7,5%	5,7%	4,3%	2,8%	1,4%
Interest in mil USD	3.863	2.935	2.201	1.467	734
Interest in state revenues %	19,7%	15,0%	11,2%	7,5%	3,7%

On the show on Croatian National Television it was said that interest was 7.5% of GNP, which means that it is HRK 24bn ($ 3.9bn), the average interest paid by the state to its creditors is 10.5%, which is almost 20% or one fifth of all government revenue (taxes and contributions). This is not only the case with Croatia, in most countries it is so, somewhere even worse.

These "shadow rulers" hold the entire World in an illusion - rich Capitalists to get rich, and poor to make money. Because the rich send money into "tax havens," and through them to the stock markets, poor people only have debt, mortgages, even credit cards and food.

If there is $ 300,000 billion of stock market financial values in the financial market, and only $ 30,000 billion of money (money supply) neither a little man nor a rich man will see this money. These 30,000 billion will evaporate from the stock market in a single instant. Shareholders will not have a penny, and the population will not even see a penny for food production. KOLAPS and CHAOS appear.

My solutions make it possible for their wealth to be just decoration, and the economy and society grow as a healthy and strong organism.

CRISIS - SYMPTOMS OF SYSTEM DISEASES

RECESSION - GRADUAL SYSTEM DEATH

DEPRESSION - DEATH, COLLAPSE, SYSTEM DECOMPOSITION

II. GLOBAL CRISIS RESOLUTION

Global Solution is the only solution for this global nightmare. No global economy can be run from national level, it is as if the forest is growing from a flower pot. Production is based in countries with lower income workers, and sales in countries where workers have higher incomes, but unemployment is rising and their salaries are reduced - so the "forest" (global economy) is dried up in all "pots" (states).

PLAN8 is the name I came up with for the global solution to global crisis, because current economic system incorporates 8 new elements that redefine and direct it to return to the creation of values - goods and services to the population, not just capital for the greedy owners who are losing absolute control and are having bigger appetite for money. They know that things are getting out of control, but are persistently draining the last amounts of money, continuing their economic wars because the winner in this war is the one who ultimately has the most.

These new elements are;

- 1) Organization of the WEO World Economic Organization
- 2) New ways of debt write-off for all countries - WEO GB Bonds
- 3) Introduction of World Economic Money - WEM
- 4) Introduction of Distinction of goods and services, to consumption and luxury
- 5) Increase of all social welfare, and introduction of basic income
- 6) Giving the WEO KB bonds to resource owners
- 7) Introduction of the WEO Anti-Corruption Team in fighting against corruption all economic and political issues
- 8) Creating WEIS and WFIS program applications

It would be best if these elements were gradually incorporated into the current global economic system in the order listed above, with a definite term introduction plan.

1) The founding of the WEO - the MOES-model of organized economic system - needs a strong global bureaucratic apparatus, organized as a corporation, whose main and primary aim is to protect against future global crises and strengthen and enlarge the market - MOES runs the so-called "Council of Wise Men" - a government composed of the best economic experts in the world - The G20 is the supervisory board made up of the world's 20 most powerful forces.

The assembly of this corporation is made up of all the states of the world Establishing WEO means having - the organizational and legal prerequisite for MOES - "Council of Wise Men" and "Team of Geniuses" - some lead organizations there and another team leads the development of technology

2) ALL STATES ARE RELIEVED FROM DEBT - WEO GB BONDS

- Put the debt of the state, which the greedy "drained" on the cloud (WEO bonds)
- create a new "rain" from the Cloud - in fact the process is reversed, the "mistake" is corrected, money is no longer real money
- when the money is "drained" again - turn into debt the state is again picked up into a cloud
- In physics, there is a black and white hole

- the rise of the economy at a crucial moment needs the growth of money mass - more gold, more bank notes, more government debt and numbers for dematerialized money mass and finally a new evolution, the new WEO-GB

3) Introduction of WEM currency for economic - real sector, in virtual - financial, currencies of all countries remain - national currencies have value according to the policy that must be useful for the global economic system

4) WEO determines the differentiation of goods into CONSUMER and LUXURY -
- Limited profit or extra profit, protects against monopoly, and thieves
- % profitability fixed but cost-effectiveness increases, thus stimulating the growth of the economy and the growth of the return of Capital, stimulates the greedy to help create goods, and not to squeeze out the last coin from the economy, by reducing it higher profit means MORE INFLATION, but higher profitability means a higher rent - no inflation, workers are not losing in the buying mass of their money, nor the capitalists get more money, which is actually worth less and less
- Increase in profitability - increase in price - Higher inflation
- Increase in cost-effectiveness - Increase in quantity - More goods and rents on invested capital created

5) Introducing different types of social benefits incentives and ultimately TD - social benefits for employment, double the pensions for those over 70 years of age

6) WEO-KB bonds to resource owners. The greedy institutionalize their POWER, and experts are given the freedom to choose the further development of science and technology. For example, they invite owners who have $ 5bn in annual earnings, agree to give them bonds based on 5% of annual revenue, and commit to having the bonds available to them at $ 5bn / 5%, which is $ 100bn of financial capital, which can agree to invest on the stock exchanges or continue to receive $ 2mln annually. As the owner admires his "$ 100bn", we invite a "team of geniuses" to whom we give unlimited resources and the best of all experts to find solutions for energy, food, nature conservation, etc., a team of engineers, computer experts, the scientist. If the owner is happy that his Capital increases by 5% this year, I will be even happier that the children of this world will have something to eat every day.

FORESTS - Forests are disappearing and the air is getting polluted. Forests are giving oxygen to the planet. Forests are drawing water underground, making water healthy. The water we drink is unhealthy - we drink it and it takes away minerals from our body

7) WEO-TEAM Against Corruption, Economic and Political Assistance or Pressing the States, This Team Can Also Participate in Elections - "Young Kamikaze"

8) Creating WEIS and WFIS software applications.

WEIS - Provides information on the global economic system, while WFIS provides information on the financial, monitoring, control, management, planning and achievement of specific goals in creating and enriching Information is generated from the WEIS database - it answers or alerts what data is missing to make the requested information complete and useful for the most effective solution to the problem.

2.1. A new structure of debt write-off for all countries – turning countries debt into money – WEO GB Bonds

Accountants are given all kind of numbers to implement in our books. We are just recording what has occurred, but it is time to show you how economics and society can easily change through books, only through a few computer transactions (those who are not bookkeepers, just read the text apart from the items):

In the balance of the global economy, a debts of the state is recorded as follows:

5xxx / 21xx - on the left hand side there are debts of the state, and at the right hand side there are commitments towards creditors and financial investors

I will explain in a couple of bookkeeping terms how the debt disappears in computer memory, and this is by issuing real money, which is not based on a state's debt.

1. 21xxx / 9xxx - transfer of debt-obligations of states to capitals moving to WEO
2. 0xxx / 5xxx - debts are transferred to GB WEO bonds
3. 1000 / 0xxx - bonds are converted into money (WEM)
4. 9xxx / 1000 – it is returned to the owners of capital for new investments

With the first two transactions, the debts of the States and the Capital are placed in a global cloud, which needs to give the necessary «rain» to feed the thirsty soil. But we need to know that the fields will not be fertile if they are not plowed, so we have to prepare everything else. Which means that other transactions have to be done. And this is done by returning the capital to the creditors-the debt is canceled, so that money appears on the market and is placed in investment-state bonds or in corporate bonds.

Now this new Money launches "plowing". Corporations increase production. States invest in new investments, give higher salaries to teachers, doctors, and larger retirement money.

Increase in State Taxes, Profit Capital or Worker's Wages means INCREASED INFLATION. But on the other hand, higher spending or higher production means higher Taxes, Profit and Wages without raising prices. This is achieved when PRODUCTION is INCREASED by INVESTMENTS or CONSUMPTION is increased by government's grants for salary, pension or social security. In both cases, it is by borrowing by the state, ie, corporation. Debt is the only way by which money is made today or by which money is returned from deposit, into a bloodstream of economy.

To repeat;

1 - put the state debts into "CLOUD"

2 - CREATE MONEY BY DEBT WRITE-OFF - the dept of the state is canceled, and all that money has ended on the financial markets, now the process is reversed, money is created by annulment of old debt - we get money that is healthy for both the economy and the society, but this money will eventually end in full on stock exchanges, as the amount of money on stock exchanges has to grow steadily so that they can survive

3 - Money is returned to the owners of the capital who reinvest them

4 - The states, released from debt, are again liable for new investments, the state must be indebted because money is given to "trust" that the lender will fully use it, if he proves that he has used it purposefully the debt is again "written down" , if one part gets corrupt, this part must be returned immediately, from a taxpayers' pocket. They will need to be more cautious with with whom they give the power, and thus all the money on which the elected politicians decide.

5 - Corporations are indebted to increase production. If the Corporation is over-indebted, the state returns its debt to creditors or gives guarantees to its creditors.

6 - Goods and services are divided into CONSUMER and LUXURY - to protect consumer standards, limiting profit to 5% per annum on consumer goods, this means, as VAT differs to 5%, 13% or 25%, the items are itemized according to what kind of profits will be made - a limited or unlimited profit - if the item of goods consumes a profit of 5% of revenue, all the difference is taxed on the new derivative (derived) form of profit tax. This will be very stimulating, efficient - it will push corporations to cut prices or raise salaries while simultaneously increasing production and productivity, because although profitability is the same, the profitability of capital is growing as a result of increased spending and thus production.

7 - BASIC INCOME is introduced to absorb increased production All of this has to be accomplished in this order, because if anything is omitted or inverted it can once again lead to financial and economic imbalances and problems - CRISIS or INFLATION, which can be avoided if two program applications are created. Those two, WEIS and WFIS (world economic and financial information systems) will collect data and provide comprehensive information on the movement in the economy and the growth of capital.

Data on quantity and value of goods, about education workers' education, gender, work experience, Capital on maturity and % yields, spending and borrowing of countries, etc.

Elements under points 6 and 7 will be explained in more detail later.

When a large "bar of debt" is again created, it is again snuffed into a new cloud and a new "rain" is released into the economy, and new growth and development begins. In this way, Capital grows continuously, and the debt cycle of appearing and disappearing continues. Simultaneously the economy and the welfare of society gets stronger, because poverty, hunger and wars disappear - and Kapital has steady growth, not cyclic with occasional huge losses.

Until 2007, the capital grew by 2.5 times, as I have already mentioned, but I repeat because this means that at an average annual rate of 35% it means that in 100 years the economy and population would have to grow by 3.5 times. When this was explained to us by our math professor in elementary school he said that even 10% was too much.

All this leads to the conclusion that the "FOG" values created on the stock exchanges would not have foundations in the real world, they would not have real values. Now the stock exchanges are struggling because the yield on securities trading does not exceed 2-5% per annum, it is clear that interest on deposits and loans rapidly falls, and banks are introducing a so-called zero interest rate for those who do not want to invest their capital.

In this way, when the debts of the state are written off, ie FOG, we get into the the cloud from which we will get healthy rain for healthy value production in the economy. Here we can express ourselves with a hairdresser's vocabulary: why would they have cancer in a body that constantly absorbs blood when the capital can be a big hair that makes life more beautiful. Let's take into account the fact that all the records of the Capital on computer screens and mobile phones, makes the job much easier.

The owner of the capital is in front of the screen, satisfied and confident that his numbers and curves grow, and we can calmly and prosperously continue our lives - without poverty, hunger and wars. Is not that an ideal solution? The IT age has just offered us a solution to our problems.

STOCK MARKETS are such systema that need an unlimited source of new MONEY, and since SOURCE (real economy) is totally exhausted, the only solution is the new RELIABLE SOURCE - a global monetary system that will enable simultaneous development of the creation and continuation of prosperity.

2.2. Creation of WEO – World Economic Organization

The second basic solution is to ensure that the 20 of today's largest states are secured to maintain their level of power, which is possible when the WEO (World Economic Organization) is established. There has to be a clause in the Treaty that when economic power changes are mathematically are corrected by their economic power ie the distribution of new wealth and new money is worth correcting the distribution of money to economic power when establishing the WEO.

The economic system was a battlefield where the great economic powers fought for economic dominance and now occupy certain positions of power. Changing these positions can only be achieved with the new war or executing the AGREEMENT on the reckoning of the present ones.

All of them want to secure the power, and this can not be done without huge amounts of money.

If this clause is not in the WEO Founding Treaty, its establishment and "real association of the big 20" will not happen.

To clarify how the "weighing system" should function.

According to some data the percentage share of the US economy in the world economy is about 19% or coefficient 0.19. If the 2014 Contract had been made, this coefficient would have been taken for weighting for all subsequent years. If, for example, the USA share was 15% in 2015, the weighted coefficient would be 0.17, which means that in the WEO funds USA is 17%.

For example, 2015 (USA 0.15 + 0.19) / 2 = 0.17 - 2016 share in WEO funds

For example, the year 2016 (USA 0.21 + 0.19) / 2 = 0.20 - new US share in 2017 is 20%

This way, a certain part of the achieved power in the world is retained, but at the same time a balance is achieved in the contribution of some country to the development of the world economy.

The WEO should be organized as a joint stock company, whose founding and shareholding assembly consists of all the countries of the World. The Supervisory Board consists of the 20 of the strongest economic countries. The Management is lead by the economy experts, along with the Development (with all profile professionals) and the Financial Sector, which takes care of financing the World Economic Development. The capital of this organization are all claims of the creditors of the indebted states, and the property are bonds and debts of the states. When the WEM is emitted, bonds are purchased, ie the amount of founding capital is reduced for the part of the debts. Accounting Items, Traffic Transactions in Computer bases, are:

21xx / 9000 - Founding Capital allocated to creditors of indebted countries

00xx / 5xxx - Debt countries are converted into the WEO GB-bond of the WEO Joint Stock Company

1000 / 00xx - Bonds are converted into WEM money 9000/1000 - A part of the founding capital is returned - part of the debt is repaid

WEO's founding capital is reduced by paying debts back to creditors, and rising with the new "debt write-offs" of debts when these debts become too heavy for the functioning of the global economy or when the rebalance in the economy that is always created when too much money is absorbed or when Capital takes too much, ie its share in economic distribution has increased too much in relation to the State and Workers.

The WEO does not only have economic and financial but also a great political power. Namely, the WEO Assembly can also provide VETO, to any VETO of any partner, if economic experts find it to jeopardize the functioning of the global economy.

Every state member, ie its politicians, have the right to their own veto because of their political goals and mostly because of their political marketing (slogans-idols-symbols), by which they want to prove to their constituency that they protect their national or aNother interests.

But if it is of prime concern to the entire global economy that a WEO measure is implemented then it is veto on VETO, because politicians can "osvjetlati obraz" in accordance with their promise to the electorate, but common interest is still paramount.

The 20 founding statesa can enter into a treaty to establish the WEO, but they can also enter into bilateral agreements with other states, thus becoming their assistants in achieving common political and economic goals. This system only institutionalises the present way of political grouping of countries.

A country with political or economic problems becomes WEO's protege, and a country that creates a global economy for both economic and political problems is proclaimed pest and gets sanctions and penalties. So we have 4 types of WEO member states:

PARTNERS - SUPPORTERS - PROTEGES - PESTS

WEO can also take a particular people as a "protege" because in some states the ruling majority most often considers minority people as parasites and do not want to share resources with them (such as Kurds and Palestinians, and are not rare in other countries). In this case, human relocation needs to be carried out and a protectorate that guarantees economic and political independence for the people, and economic development is financed from WEO funds.

This model was used by capitalist countries when they heavily financed certain countries to envy workers of socialist countries. One such example is Taiwan, which was economically developed thanks to the American aid to the Chinese who fled from China. There were a lot of such cases (eg Germany).

In the history, such great crisis were sometimes solved painlessly, which consisted of two elements:

AGREEMENT + INTEREST. When the "Owners" managed to agree on solutions that protect their interests, it did not come to war. The war came after politicians with political marketing (slogans-idols-symbols) raged their people and turned them into killing machines, all for one reason alone because they could not agree, ie some of the Owners did not have their interests protected.

Politicians have taught the people through history to hate, and now the hatred of the people is overflowed to them.

We can put robots to do that instead of our politicians, nothing will change again. Global capital and global economy is managed by financial capital.

Financial capital lead and everything that has happened to us is the result of its own moves. We can forcefully overthrow our politicians, but we will only cause a chaos in which a small human being will lose, for financial capital an insignificant man.

I am not not saying that our politicians are not guilty. They are because they have been doing things for their own benefit, but they were stupid as well because they thought they were listening to smarter than themselves, and not the more powerful who saw the opportunity to use them for his own goals.

Kapital does not mind that one has a manager and his plant. The younger do not know what the term "director and plant" means. This expression appeared in socialism when so-called labor organizations were established in which there were directors who did not have any function, but only a fictitious job for safety. Yes, this is a practice of politicians today as well but with the different name - state or private agencies.

I have decided to stay silent so far. Because when you see madness and chaos around you you use all your strengths to try and do something for yourself, and for others.

The only thing you can do is to hide, lie down, and unfortunately, passively observe murder and violence because you are simply helpless. No one will listen to you, neither the people nor the politicians, because you can not explain it to each individual and transmit your knowledge. That is not an easy task. It is almost impossible.

Would I have to address four million people? Now, when there we have the internet I have a chance to compile all the important information in one place and show it to the millions.

To collect all relevant terms and data and interpret it in the right way, thus getting the solutions by themselves – they are imposed by logic.

But the problem is that people do not like to read. This would only be effective if I made a movie, like that amath professor who wanted to prove that the bankers did not know how to calculate interest. All I need is a digital camera. I also need an IT expert who will put this movie on the internet, and let me show and explain my theory.

I have heard from some colleagues that in Switzerland, even physicists are engaged to help resolve the crisis that was caused in their county due to speculations with their currency. Mathematicians and physicists are masters of reading laws of nature, not laws of society. That is the task of social scientists: economics, law, psychologists, sociologists, philosophers and theologians.

Mathematicians and physicists first analyze the historical trends of certain parameters in the economy (social gross product, unemployment, profit, public and private debt, savings ...) and put it in their formulas and hope that these mathematical equations or disparities will show future trends in the economy, depending on their objectives (what will be the profit, or for the Swiss what are the future currency exchange rates). Cretinism.

This is notorious stupidity. Laws of nature do not affect the future of the economy (which are presented in mathematical and physical formulas), but the will of people and their interests. We depend on what human imagination will invent to find a solution for the realization of its interests.

Nature has not given the laws of the conduct of society. We are the ones who make them. The laws correct the behavior of people who are detrimental to society, behaviors that are a threat to the normal functioning of the economy.

In the analysis of society as well as the economic system, you can not create a program module that will allow you to predict the effect of this system's behavior so that you make the appropriate decisions with the goal of achieving certain goals and guiding it towards achieving those goals. People are the ones whose behavior needs to be determined to make the system work towards a specific goal - this is achieved by new laws and new rules.

One can only create an IT system - a program application that gives you data on performance results, which one can then analyze (economists work). But not a system-program application that could predict the movement of an economic-based system of people.

This is done by physicists and mathematicians when studying the laws of nature.

Socialism sought to create as much social wealth as possible (dwellings, traffic, urban and manufacturing infrastructure) - the same thing that wealthy countries have been creating by plundering in various ways (imperial conquest, unjust trade, unfavorable loans, currency war, globalization etc.). When the socialist countries transferred into capitalism, their corrupt elites "educated" by more advanced capitalist "experts" told them that everything they have acquired should be depreciated and sold- privatized.

It is without a doubt that globalization has created states that are exclusive consumers and states that, on the other hand, because of the cheap labor, have become the exclusive producers.

Asking of countries that have been ruined in globalization to reduce their salaries and pensions means that they are increasingly reducing the standard - and this means the standard of consumers used and profited by the monopoly and the capital. The reduction in salaries and pensions is in inflation, not in the deflation of the economic system.

Germany profits from trading due to the sale of its cars to China due to middle class growth and corruption. The US currency is the world currency and when it generates money (the primary government debt issue), it attracts money from all over the world to its financial market. Therefore it has a stalemate on debt growth, growth in the economy and a fall in unemployment.

That's why the US can spend wildly. The EU has no money that is so appealing and can not be so wasteful, but still has enough credibility to make a gradual first emission of new money because deflation needs new money. The old money ended up on the stock exchanges, the financial markets that are carrying out its securities trading transactions on a daily basis.

It may seem to you that this text is too long, but that is the fruit of long-lasting education, work experience, 20-year analysis and reflection, and what I wrote are actually the most important facts regarding the crisis of the economy and the crisis of society. My PLAN8 is actually just the foundation, the walls and the roof of the house, and all the other details about home decoration (working with all the other experts) will make this house (global economy) THE WORLD for all people.

I actually became an economic analyst and a theorist. Theorists analyze the behavior of a system, natural or social. When they determine certain regularities, or in this case irregularities in system processes, they indicate their uselessness and provide suggestions for their removal.

Capitalist economic theorists are forbidden to say anything about a "perfect" capitalist economic system.

In order to implement my theoretical economic system, I need all the experts from economics (managers, accountants, statisticians, analysts, auditors, marketing experts, stockbrokers and other types of economic experts), law and information technology. For my theoretical concept, if we look at it as a house that is being built, is just the foundation carrying the walls of the home. It is missing the first roofing (WEO) and then it needs interior decoration and everything that the house needs to become a home.

I only have thorough practice and knowledge about functioning of a classical type of bank and micro private company. The other know the details of how other elements of the economic system work.

Why are the Swiss seeking advice from physicists, as economists and the rest of the world's governments just repeat what they know and say - increase investment? The state can only do this if it is in debt, and it can not do it anymore. Capital gives money only if it can profit (it does not accept losses in the balance sheets) and if there is no risk of it losing. Capital does not donate money. It is done by the State.

Since the time the financial markets were formed the US have on several occasions taken money for their economic, financial, political and military goals, so we have;

- PETRODOLAR - Due to the enormous artificial growth of oil prices - Arab countries, because of their religious reasons, should not have interest on their money, invested money on stock exchanges

- EURODOLAR - Due to the growth of the US Stock Exchange, the money was attracted from Europe

- Recently, China has invested its entire income in US bonds, hoping to pressure Americans to take care of the interests of the Chinese people

- in the Trump's administration, economic growth and recovery is based on a constant emission of a "new currency" which allows people to buy whatever they want, because it does not lose value because of the increase in its volume. It only happens to the countries that are indebted to spend, the new money for them would only mean greater consumption, higher imports and a new distribution of state and social wealth-

And then we wonder why America is so powerful and wealthy. European banks had given all the money to America. Still we live in the illusion of having your own money. Knowing that, America is making $ 1,000,000 worth of dollars with just one item in a computer memory.

Now Trump's state administration wants to introduce custom duties on its imports, which will bring the world economy to an even greater imbalance. There will be a shortage of dollars from the market, which will make it difficult for everyone to function in their economies.

2.3. Introduction of World Economic Money - WEM

After the establishment of the WEO, this organization should have the real economic and financial power to introduce World Economic Money - WEM.

What is achieved with this? It is ensured that the WEO can implement its own monetary and financial policy, without affecting the currency wars on the global real economy (the commodity and service market) ie the world economy and the exploitation of resources.

Today, the US, EU, China and others lead financial and economic wars, destroying each other and thus the entire global economy.

Now, due to the overwhelming debt of the states, the credibility of their money, and thus the value of all their resources is diminished, which means that everything becomes more expensive for the state is, especially the capital that has been lent and has to be returned. Or at least the state must pay interest that is becoming bigger because of the fall of national value currency.

There is a situation where everything loses its value because there will be no demand - no strong consumer who has the right income. Value of goods, services and capital is falling. People in panic buy gold and Swiss frank. What would it look like if all currencies lose value and capitalists buy the last franc to save at least some of their capital. But there is also a trap. Capital from the Swiss banks went to America in the form of EURODOLAR.

I would point out that the biggest players in financial markets should not even think about selling their securities or fleeing into other "solid currencies" but are being judged to be facing the "virtual world" of financial markets in front of their screens nervously and look at the figures and Curves in a steady decline and there were times when the situation was great. Today, in order to maintain as much stability as financial markets, and thus economic stability, they must endure permanent losses.

When the Socialists were overthrown, the value of financial capital increased by 2.5 times over 7 years, while wage rates did not increase by 1%, with steady growth of unemployment and population debt. This has destroyed the consumer base of multinational corporations.

2.4. Introduction of Distinction of Goods and Services to CONSUMPTION and LUXURY Goods and Services

In order to protect the standards of the world's citizens, another measure must be introduced - all consumer goods and medicines can only be profitable at 5%, and if the profits are higher they must be reinvested in development or/and reduce prices and/or increase salaries of employees .

What WEO categorizes as luxury goods for a country has no limit on profits.

A 5% profit limit applies to sales of consumer goods (the surplus is fully taxed) and the profits from the luxury goods are not limited. Also, the profits of so-called micro-entities, which have a total income of less than 100 thousand Euros, should not be taxed, allowing them to further develop their business, but they also need to share income from luxury and consumer goods.

This WEO measure is twofold important:

1. PROTECTION FROM LOAN SHARKS - Conservation is maintained, even to a certain extent, by an increase in consumer standards, because global multinational corporations, which have a global monopoly, prohibit the increase of prices due to increased profitability on goods that satisfy the needs of the population.

2. PROTECTION FROM THIEVES - This ensures the monitoring and control of spending of various WEO assistances for social benefits (unemployed, education, healthcare, etc.). If it is determined that after a certain state is growing in consumption of luxury rather than consumer goods, this is a sign that the state is stuck in corruption and that the money sent has not ended up with the needy, but with the corrupt politicians and their assistants ie in the ruling lobby of that state .

If this measure is important is proven by the fact that when China launches campaigns and anti-corruption trials, sales of French wines and German cars in China are reduced. For those who transfer their profits to the tax oasis banks, offshore centers, they need to submit their data to offshore centers, so they lose the citizenship of the country where they earned money in a period of two years. So let them be citizens and patriots of the land where there is money (capital).

2.5. Increasing of social welfare, and introduction of basic income

Some European states have had policy of giving compensation to unemployed people (such as Sweden and Germany), but they have forsaken this policy because it would lead to bankruptcy.

I think it should be introduced as a practice in all countries, of course with the financial assistance of the WEO.

Social reimbursement (SR) should be for the unemployed, and the social allowance (SA) for low-income workers, is the minimum wage to be $\frac{1}{2}$ of the average wage of that state.

These social reimbursements (SRs) or social allowances (SAs) should be several as well as the introduction of other social measures:

1. SR in the amount of $\frac{1}{2}$ average salary for all unemployed over 30 years
2. SR in the amount of $\frac{1}{2}$ average wage for employees who receive a minimum, if the employer operates a profit, returns the money to the state
3. SR in the amount of the average wage for employing the unemployed with employers who have 10 or more employees but do not have any additional recruitment resources ie they have a loss and have a socially beneficial activity for that country
4. Employees who go to early retirement with 50 years of age and the minimum SR pension should be $\frac{1}{2}$ average wages
5. Workers should go to full retirement at age 60 and their minimum SR pension would be 1 average salary
6. SR in the amount of $\frac{1}{2}$ average salary for recruiting unemployed young people up to 30 years

Corporations had a business policy to reduce their labor prices in order to increase their profitability, and the state was increasingly in debt to alleviate social problems.

How much will a country finance SR and SA depends on how financially strong it is and the weakest for this purpose gets the help of WEO. In the global economy, states have developed exclusively manufacturers, but also states that are exclusive consumers.

Large producers become countries with cheap labor, but a small average salary. Within the group of large consumers we also have underdeveloped countries whose sole revenue was from oil. Therefore, this WEO policy with the SN and the SD is very important for equalizing and increasing the standard of all citizens of the world, which would reduce poverty and hunger.

The tendency of reducing labor costs and rising unemployment is inevitable due to the increasing robotization, computerization and development of mechanization, which is increasingly expelling humans from production.

Former productivity indicator is no longer an indicator of the performance of a worker, but is an indicator of the amount of work the worker achieves using modern technology and techniques created by contemporary science.

The goods are plentiful today, and the consumer has got too little money and for this reason this WEO measure of great importance.

The introduction of SR and SA should be gradual, when it is time for the global economy to recover and strengthen production. When it is in the height of its development, it is necessary for all to introduce the basic income, which will facilitate the maintenance of this peak of the economy.

What is happening is similar to the collapse of the Roman Empire. The Emperor made gold (money) and gave it to the people, builders and soldiers who bought food and the rest of the goods produced by slaves from the slave owners. It means that the money actually had one direction from the Emperor to the slave owner.

Today, product and service prices are increasingly minimizing the share of workers' income, which the state is trying to offset by its taxes and loans in order to take care of people, and slowly takes over the troubled economies and other institutions, which is becoming less and less possible since there is not enough money to satiate the appetites of the financial elite.

The WEO provides assistance to the state's welfare, in part financed by WEM's cash flow by BP's global economy, and in part by borrowing on financial markets, ensuring the deposition of accumulated financial capital.

But the functioning of this system must be protected from the greed of multinational corporations, which profit should be limited to 5%, because they can not be allowed to get more money than it is created in the economy.

2.6. Giving WEO KB-Bonds to owners of resources

All these measures would not be enough unless an adequate solution was found for the lack of energy and energy sources that would be acceptable for the economic progress that WEO provides.

The energy resource was the weakest link that would hinder the development of the world economy and increase the standard of population.

WEO also emits the WEO-KB bonds that are provided by resource owners, primarily property of energy and energy sources, which due to its insufficiency have the highest price.

The capital level, which is recognized, is determined by the annual "rent" that should be equal to their previous annual income. In this way, WEO can freely fund scientists who can solve the problems of all resources.

The value of resources for the WEO-BH bonds is estimated as follows:

Annual Income 5 Billion / 0,05 = 100 bn of financial capital in the WEO KB bonds

The numerator is the value of the revenue earned by the owner of the resource on an annual basis, and in the denominator is the figure of 0.05 representing the yield coefficient realized by the owner of the resource by selling.

For instance, if the annual revenue from sales of resources (oil, electricity, etc.) is $ 10 billion, the value of its equity in the WEO-KB securities is $ 200 million. They may reinvest their capital on financial markets, but not more than 5% per annum, which means that in 20 years the WEO-BCE bonds are turned into financial capital in global financial markets.

Equity holders in the WEO-BN bonds receive 5% of annual rent paid by WEO.

There are scientists today who have created technical solutions that give us unlimited and free energy but are discredited or even killed in various ways.

Owners of resources are supported by political apparatus, political marketing, corrupt experts and journalists, secret services, police, and the army that protects their interests.

The WEO-BH emission is merely a continuation of the trend of financial market development by introducing new financial instruments, because accepting shares and types of other valuable securities innovations can accept this type of securities, and the credibility and stability of their value is assured by political and financial institutions that have only protected their interests so far.

The solution to the global crisis is simple. Owners of the "gold jug", which they see on their computer screens, are allowed their numbers to grow. They will be in excited about it and be locked to the screens of their laptop or mobile phone, and let us work and create in peace.

But in order for this system to function, it must be clear to the elites that capital is not increasing more than 10% annually, ie there is 5% of the profits in the financial markets and 5% of the capitalized interest of the WEO-KB.

The increase of 10% in financial capital is already a large amount, which means that within 10 years their financial capital would be doubled. There is a problem that with this tendency financial capital would be higher in the future than the gross product of the global economy - which means if they decided to spend their money in the market, there would be no goods and services for that money.

This will never happen though, because the financial elites only want money. However, it is important not to overdo it.

Multinational corporations have a monopoly on all markets and determine the prices for all the goods and services they sell. So there is no free market with free supply and demand. All the money that exists would either be generated by the issue of WEOs and / or by bank loans and / or by trading in financial markets, ends as the profits of the corporations, ie the owners of their shares.

If this profit was more than 5%, then a new block-crisis would be created because the huge amount of money again ended up in "gold jugs". Imagine if the profitability of a multinational corporation was 100%, then it would mean that all the money from the realized profits would suddenly end with the resource owner, not the consumer ei consumption with its potential to create production.

The crisis arises when those who have accumulated the money into their "jug" do not want to give it out of their "jug" without any benefit for them. And to get to it there should be new money on the market that they would appropriate. The more cash is withdrawn from the market the more money mass can be emitted without any problem. No resources are spent there. It is just to satisfy a psychological need for supremacy.

Any new money created by the WEO issue of WEM or central bank through debt issuance of the states is multiplied as a monetary mass through private banks by converting deposits of these banks into loans for citizens, companies and states. It is important to distinguish money mass from monetary mass. Because in the monetary mass, in addition to money in bank accounts, there is also money raised from deposits in loans. So the monetary multiplication cycle goes like this: money-deposit-credit-money-deposit-credi.. it cycles until money becomes a financial capital that eventually absorbs it completely as long as there is an adequate yield on its financial capital.

All the monetary mass that is created turns into financial capital, that is, finishes on the stock market - financial markets.

2.7. WEO TEAM - Assistance or Pressure

The WEO should also organize special teams to replace the governments of the states in the conduct of their economies. Normally, it would be based on democracy where the citizens of states in the elections in addition to different political parties could choose the WEO experts to run their economy. On the electoral list, besides other candidates, the WEO team would be:

X.WEO team - a) help b) pressure

In this way, citizens would let their politicians know that they do not trust them and seek the pressure, full management and oversight of the WEO or vote for help by which they would give their trust to the politicians but let them know they are incapable.

In this way, other political parties of these states become an opposition.

The WEO team should help not only in economic but also in political affairs if it is elected by the people of that state through democratic elections.

In some cases politicians themselves can look for a WEO team.

2.8. WEIS and WFIS software applications

To solve this crisis, two program applications are needed:

- 1) WEIS - World Economic Information System
- 2) WFIS - World Financial Information System

The first application will create the preconditions for real economy to be created, and in the virtual economy, ie in the financial markets, it will enable prosperity. In today's mode of functioning, the economy is disturbed and destroys itself from the inside. Marx himself has foreseen for capitalism that it is so conceived to destroy itself from within.

I will show you how to achieve an elegant way of organizing an economy that enables both creation and prosperity.

The first system, WEIS, has only one currency of WEM traded on the market of goods and services. This IT system monitors the use and consumption of all resources, enables creative work, work by workers and scientists to create a better living standard for all the people of this world. From its data at any given moment we can see how developed is the global economy and what any country has got at its disposal. That shows to what extent any national economy is participating in the increase of the global economy and the distribution of WEO financial resources through weighing.

Second system monitors financial markets, where it is traded:

- 1) money
- 2) Capital (Securities of States and Corporations)
- 3) currencies
- 4) GB WEO
- 5) WEO KB

In order for these two systems to function, a WEO World Economic Organization founded by the 20 economically motivated countries of the world must be established.

States may get loans on the financial markets again, but these bonds receive bonuses if they conduct a policy that is in line with the mentality of love and if they take the policy of mentality of violence they receive punitive points. The bonds are issued in the national currency or the WEM in the financial market.

The price of the national currency is a reflection of the country's policy of respect, and respect for it should not be according to the culture of violence, but the culture of love.

World currency WEM is not traded on stock exchanges. It has the value of the most expensive national currency from the financial markets, but national and corporate bonds can be in WEM.

The creation of the WEIS World Economic Information System has the following template:

ASSETS OF THE ECONOMY – RESOURCES	BENEFICIARIES AND OWNERS OF THE RESOURCES
1. Natural wealth-natural resource	1. state - political elite
2. Production and construction-productive resource	2. consumers funded by state - welfare, retirees, education, health, state administration, police, military, etc.
3. Energy-Energy Resource	3. private sector - financial elite
4. Education, expertise, service-level resource	4. private sector employees
5. Money-financial resource

This program provides a comprehensive overview of the development of the global economy (RESURSA), and on the other hand we see the users and owners of these resources:

- We see how much the state consumes as a user, and partly is the owner of some resources
- how much is spent by workers (what are their salaries) in private vas. public sector
- how much the production of goods has increased in order to increase social benefits, standard, and provide corporations with increased production
- we see how much capital is available to the political and financial elite, but they have to remain anonymous, unless they are in offshore centers, tax oasis, then their data is public

Today's money movement in the modern world is very interesting - the state emits a debt - the state spends on the investments and welfare of the society - the workers spend what they have earned from the state - this spending partilally goes for taxes, partially (but smaller) goes to the worker and partially to the elite - when a crisis happens due to the lack of money - the state re-emits debt and everything passes through several cycles until all the money is deposited in the elite's "jugs".

The ruling elite, in their desire to protect themselves from paying taxes and losses on the stock market, is seeking to buy antiques and artwork. That is done by those with a smaller capital, and those with huge capital are in locked to the screens in mortal fear of how much more will they lose.

Today the goods are plentiful and the consumer has too little money.

I assure you that my solutions would be of interest to all the layers of society, because both the poor and the rich are in a growing disadvantage. The poor are all the more hungry, and the wealthy have overflowing amounts of money.

PLAN-8 or PROJECT-PROGRAM-8 can be introduced gradually, but it has to be fully implemented in all of the 8 points. It is a complete system that must have all the elements to function successfully - all is in interdependence and connectivity.

III. LOCAL SOLUTIONS TO ECONOMIC PROBLEMS

3.1. Croatian economic analysis

To the idea of changing the global economic system I actually got from the analysis of the Croatian economy, and for the analysis I took four starting points;

- 1 / CREDIT DEPENDANCY
- 2 / DEPENDANCY ON CONVERTIBLE CURRENCY
- 3 / IMPORT DEPENDANCY
- 4 / ISUFFICIENT USE OF DOMESTIC RESOURCES

Balancing-looking at the state of the economy goes through an analysis of asset-resources on one hand and the GDP-allocation obligations on the otherhand.

3.1.1 Assets-resources

3.1.1.1.Natural wealth - we will bring our naturally wealthy country to the point where it will feel like living in the desert. Forests, drinking water, fertile soil, the sea ... - all this will be sold out - because we are a sole trading society, we resell the goods.

3.1.1.2.Produced goods - almost all production and construction has been destroyed, and more and more agriculture will be extinguished.

3.1.1.3.Energy and energy resources – production in INA has already been destroyed, what the Hungarians are interested in its trade network now for INA, which has actually become useless because there will be no means to start production according to modern criteria, HEP will be sold like INA will be reduced to distributors exclusively by someone else's energy. From this we can conclude that we remain without the most basic of survival - energy and food. We become strangers in their own country who spend and live on something that they have no rights. You think this can not happen.

3.1.1.4. Human resources

You have probably heard about that old term brain drain, my dear has spread to everything that is capable and skillful to fight for survival in a foreign country. Not only will we not have what to heat in the winter, but we will not have anyone to produce us food for us, because now Slavonia is almost deserted.

3.1.1.5. Financtions – there is a myth trepeated by politicians "we need to attract investments and everyone will be better". In order for someone to invest in our production, they need a market and our workers are broke. So what can we sell them to earn-profit? All the money in hands of our citizens is owned by foreign banks, on the other hand our citizens are in great debt.

What we can draw from this analysis - no one is to blame for the fact that we like to spend money, and in such conditions that govern the global economy we are condemned (as Greece, Italy, Spain, etc.) to be an exclusive consumer. And to spend you have to give-sell what you have, pure exchange.

Our system is like this: SELL-CREATE DEBT-CONSUME. Consumption needs money, and that money and those goods are just not ours.

Since spending is financed by a deficit-debt of the state and by getting citizens to loan money, this option is limited and has reached its limits.

If the monetary mass (Savings and Capital in the Banks) is not converted into a loan, generic illiquidity arises, so more companies will deal with loss.

Current economy is like a poker game, where one has profits and the others have to lose, but only for the reason that consumers are no longer able to borrow, so all the monetary mass can not be used for market realization of all new values. In socialism there was a pile money and the goods insufficient, and here Kapital must have its own placement. Because if it were the state created new money to realize the sale of all created goods and services Kapital would remain without the possibility of yield-interest. It would not work.

3.1.2. Obligations

3.1.2.1 Towards State – it has got politicians who are leaders, who can not deny anyone - pensioners, teachers, doctors, army, police and above all itself - to cover obligations towards them, you have to sell something out of state property or charge a lot of money.

3.1.2.2. Towards Workers - workers' wages become an increasing problem-cost burden, which reduces profitability and profitability because we have no money for automation and robotization, we have a catastrophic productivity. It does not matter if you know what these economic indicators mean for the success of some production on the market, the worker becomes a surplus, very expensive.

3.1.2.3 Towards Kapital - it has become a very important category in our capitalist society, which is crucial for the survival of the entire economy, because there is no production if it does not generate profits. The thing is clear and transparent. When a business operates with a profit, interest is only the cost of a business, and when it deals with the loss of interest and credit, it becomes a non-refundable, unpaid and lost cash, because there is no income to return it.

Now, I guess, it is clear that these are the conditions in which you live and that draw you your future and the future of your children.

RESOURCES	OBLIGATIONS towards
Natural resources	State
Manufactured and built goods	Capital
Energy	Foreign credits import > export
Human potential
Finance	Workers

As can be seen from the above picture, the IMO prevails in the Croatian economy, which corrects balance in foreign loans. But, at the same time, it means that imports extinguishes domestic production, while foreign loans reduce domestic incomes and capital.

3.2. Croatian social analysis

With the kind of economy described above, society can not be better. But let me point out the key moments.

You all know about cities that are symbols of people's suffering; Jasenovac, Bleiburg, Srebrenica, Vukovar. In this context, the tendency, irrelevant to which side, comes from, increases the self-sacrifice and reduces, if possible, annihilates other victims. Why is this being done? The sacrifices of other peoples are diminished because of the shame we feel before our own children. We teach them to be good and honest people, and when we teach them to believe in our huge victims, we prepare them so that they also commit the mistakes of their ancestors and go to the destruction of "guilty" for the suffering of our people. Let us not forget, children are those who end up in war – they go there with their ideals and come back with nightmares.

America sells weapons to Croatia, then Russia sells airplanes to Serbia. It's really incredible how stupid we are. Both America and Russia see our relationship and indirectly make us fight each others.

This way we become guinea pigs for quieting crisis. When other citizens of Europe and the World see it, they will soon give up their desire for change, but will have to remain silent and suffer hunger and misery. They will think that it is better to live in poverty and hunger than to endure destruction and death.

TV is the industry of "killing" boredom. Journalists, in addition to politicians, are the best servants of the capital.

Money, which is so essential for the life of the capital is needed by them, not by us. What we are left with are death or misery.

War is used by elite to make the masses humble and content with the minimal, commonly used mass psychology.

Politicians always choose capital over their people – the thing more powerful and smarter than himself. And it's easy to be smart when you have the money. In Serbia, BiH and Croatia, and generally in the world, there is an elite that is acting nice, tolerant and emphatical in regards to the needs people. In fact that same elite cannot or does not want to change anything, for it would only mean loss of position and power. This is a well know thing, but I'm afraid you're not aware of the seriousness of the matter. If possible we need to stop the avalanche before we run out of time.

EVIL WINS BECAUSE GOOD DOES NOT REACT.

The global economy does not have an adequate global organization. It is like making forest grow in the pots (national economies). My new 8 elements are an example of how global economy is globally organized.

We are on the verge of collapse of the world economy, and we need to prepare measures to survive the oncoming disaster.

If the global economic system comes to an end, I have suggestions for preparing it in national boundaries (the national strategy for the chaos in the world):

- 1) Immediately import large customs duties on imported goods to prevent further foreign exchange outflow from the country
- 2) all remaining foreign currency and foreign currency reserves are used for energy and energy resources, and consumption is met by domestic production, above all food production, because it can also become money for the purchase of necessary energy sources
- 3) Increase in money supply with growth of the economy and government loans on the domestic financial market in kuna
- 4) All debts of companies and citizens are taken over by the state, puts them in a moratorium with the lowest interest rate from the world financial markets and puts this interest into the portfolio of its external debt, which will most likely be written off because global economy can not function without state taking care of economics and welfare
- 5) pay social benefits to all citizens to ensure food purchases and payment of bills

Emission of new money can not be detrimental to the economy if everyone is on minimum – basic income, whether employed or not, and does not go on skiing and vacation abroad, provided that we produce enough goods to cover those minimum wages. On the other hand, domestic money can be directed to activate the resources in order to make the most of it, but also to trade goods with the countries that are struggling with resources - to introduce a temporary system of payment with goods.

Emission of domestic money makes sense if it is about creating and spending domestic resources.

In socialism, the stores were empty because average income was too high compared to the resources. And now we have a situation where the consumer's income is minimized by the huge amount of resources being thrown away and the more production is lost.

I repeat and warn, this is how we organize only when there is collapse of the global economy, because world powers will push our requirements (for the sake of government spending) as long as the global economic system works. But when it fails we are left alone instead of being ready for it.

I am sure that our political elite does not have an economic strategy in the case of a complete collapse of the global economy, because it thinks just as a servant. And the world's masters will find a solution for us as well.

They will try to make money as soon as possible and put it in their pockets.

Shortages of coffee, bananas and other things that we were lacking in socialism will cause problems. Cars will become a luxury because the fuel will be too expensive and too important to be wasted on unnecessary things.

When the world economy falls into depression, the only important thing is to provide the population with food and other necessary needs (water, electricity, heating, etc.). Among other things, the work of education, health and transport of passengers and goods should be ensured.

We must prepare an organization that can work within the global KAOS right now. And we all know that our political elite has no plan or strategy for functioning of the economy in the event of a global economy collapse.

In the 30s of the last century, the US government introduced public jobs to unable people to make money, and the government's investment were boosted by their debt.

(In the Republic of Croatia we have 1 million employees * 5,000 average salaries * 12 months + 50% of contributions and retirement income taxes, education and expenditure, and spending financed by the state - say 100 billion of GDP annual consumption .

- If the consumption is reduced by 5%, it means that you have to reduce your salary or lay off the workers. But let's say that the state is not in debt and it is just starting to get loans and in 10 years the consumption is up 10%, this would mean that in the 10th of this year it would have 200 billion bbl, is 100% higher wage and higher standard. Wages would be twice as big and the production of new values (goods and services) would be double - wealth would increase -)

To increase salaries in current conditions, you can not but increase prices, which means safe inflation, so consumers do not really get more goods and services again. If countries could fully be released of debt - and if they would invest in restoring the overdeveloped infrastructure, which was created in some better times, but also investments in new infrastructure – that would bring an even better standard.

One of the good incentives is to give citizens with lower incomes a basic income. All this will not have any positive effect if multinational corporations are not limited in making profit on consumer goods - all the money invested into recovery of the economy will be the converted into an extra profit rather than an increase in wages, by increasing the prices.

If profit is limited to 5% per annum that does not mean that profits will remain the same in absolute terms. If sales grow profits grow as well, eg if sales increase from 100m to 200m, it will result in increase in profit from 5 to 10m. Their profit would increase, and we would have an increase in the supply of goods and services and purchasing power (wages) at the same time.

Profitability is the same, but the profitability for Capital is twice as big.

When we enter the EU monetary system, when we introduce the EURO as our means of payment, there will no longer be any national currency protection. This is very well done by CHINA, and because of that it has become a powerful economy. But their workers do not have our standard. It is raised gradually, yearly. It is not done in the way it is done in Croatia - by selling everything that we have acquired and created, and when it was no longer provided, by getting unreasonable loans, by borrowing for consumption. And we all spent it on "bananas" (luxury goods) for monkeys.

We do not really have, in our market of goods and services, the circular flow of kuna trades, we have the following: consumers who spend their income in kuna with retailers, traders buy foreign currency from the banks and make payments to their foreign suppliers. They pledge to citizens and companies through loans, artificially increasing demand for goods and at the same time for foreign exchange.

Public, private and commercial debt have been growing year after year.

All the goods that are not needed as basics should urgently be taxed up to 200% as luxury items. Customs and other import duties may be forbidden but I have never heard that the state is forbidden by its regulations to determine what are luxury goods (cars, cell phones, coffee, bananas, etc.). Shops already have yearly cost of 1/3 of unsold goods, the food that is thrown away. And that is expensively paid with our country's foreign currency debt.

If we completely destroy domestic production, primarily food and medication production, there is no return - we will be in bigger chaos than Greece if we do not get any additional loans. Limit the profits of banks and retail chains to percentage that can cover our foreign currency inflow for that purpose.

We have to go a few steps back and start from scratch and with our own work create our future. Only this way one can be appreciated by others, even from one's creditors. And the EU needs to see that we have a very important resource for food production and help us sustain this resource. We also need to find a way for energy independence urgently, as this is a prerequisite for cheap economy and household operations.

It is crystal clear that neither the people nor the politicians, and the traders will not give up any of the imported goods. We know what awaits us but we're paralyzed and without any courage to change this state of affairs. We have at FINA and the CNB all the information necessary to estimate our exposure to the risk of foreign currency insolvency when we take such measures. For analysis, we need data on energy consumption, imported food, imported technical equipment and the like. I know what the data was as I used to work on reports when I worked at the bank. And now I'm doing financial reports for entrepreneurs.

Soon there will be a problem with the private debt of citizens, who must be sanctioned when general unemployment is over. The state must become a guarantor, take over the payment of interest or interest in its public debt and capitalize on the capital. This also helps banks and citizens.

If you think that we are returning to socialism when we were deprived of all these snobbish symbols of well-being you are wrong. This situation is not sustainable. We did not produce the goods, nor did we pay with our money, but with foreign-borrowed money.

We will end up poor and hungry, excluded from the distribution, because nobody cares about us. And Arabs have to fight because they have the resources - OIL. Oil trading is still the only source of stock market indices, weak but still maintains the financial system to be completely unbundled.

So we can continue to spend, to become global consumers, only under one condition, to help me realize my PLAN8. If you think my plan is not sustainable, ask yourself how viable is a system in which one borrows money to spend it.

3.3. European Union + Russia

In order to really understand what is happening in the economy, we must first analyze it. There are two approaches - ANALYTICAL and SYSTEMIC.

A clear analytical approach is when we break a problem into parts, analyze those parts, note the problematic part, conclude that it is a problem, we are censored and think that we have solved the problem of system functioning.

Systemic approaches the problem as a whole related to the environment. If we want to improve the functioning of the system, we first determine its elements, interdependencies and connections within the system (between the elements of the system), its relationship and interdependence with the environment as well as the influence of the environment on the functioning of the system. So the analytical approach is partial and systematically comprehensive.

If we want to be efficient, we choose a system approach. With the help of information technology we create a program that will give us the answer: How to increase the efficiency of our economy. We also have to think about the political segment, and we choose the American political slogan: democracy, freedom, respect for human rights and prosperity, and the choice of ideology for the functioning of the economic system: liberal capitalism. And now we are going to select programming parameters:

1) For elements of the economic system - resources (natural, produced, energy, human and financial) these are parts of the economic system

2) We determine the relation between the elements of the system, and the system itself with the environment by:

- cash
- Monetary mass (credit-deposit multiplier)
- budget revenues and expenditures
- consumer income - means spending
- employment-unemployment of the working population
- foreign financial capital
- Lending, borrowing (firms, states, citizens) - also means spending
- production (efficiency is measured by productivity, profitability, once important quantity and quality, but the market, ie the beneficiaries, are no longer so "selective" and now only the important parameter is "affordable", which means competitive).
- Trade, internal and external (import-export) - Foreign exchange reserves
- inter-currency relations
- political relations (respect of interests)

The basic economic law for the functioning of our society is the existence of supply and demand.

Functioning of the economic system (supply-demand) will depend on how these parameters work.

Why is it important for us to design which parameters we choose and what are the parameters?

The more right parameters we choose, the more realistic this programmed system is.

Parameters in the program tell how the system we are programming will work. When we change one of them the others will change as well.

Here is an example:

- let's say we change the money parameter: if the amount of money increases in value demand increases as well; it means we need to increase production or use imports, if we do not import - the system fails, which is obvious through parameter of politics (political problems - citizens want imported goods, and traders want cheaper imported goods to increase their profits); if we decide not to import, in addition to our internal problems what we get are political problems, with the environment - we do not respect the idea of liberal capitalism.
- If we allow an import parameter to increase, what we get is the parameter of borrowing that responds to the currency parameter (lack of foreign exchange), so we need to increase the IMF borrowing parameter to bring the system back to balance of the supply and demand.

Parameters can at the same time be both the indicator and the parameter. For example the initial parameter of unemployment, shows how much import reduces domestic production and employment, but the unemployment parameter determines how much the social benefits for the unemployed will have to increase.

The existence of adequate resources, with the prerequisites of exploitation of these resources, helps the degree of autonomy of the economic system. The program gives you information on the percentage of economic independence in the environment. The greater the degree of economic autonomy the greater is the possibility for political independence.

This program works automatically if you want to change some parameters: Reduce tax - other parameters, programmed systems, which occur with elements and relationships within the system due to the parameters that have changed, and the program points out which parameters are increasing or falling.

There is constant pressure on the experts to develop a program that will quickly give the answers to the consequences of a certain economic or political decision. There is an emphasis on financial efficiency only. The other elements - economic, and particularly social are hoped to be irrelevant for the program. From the developers, as well as from the economists, it is required that only the parameter that generates profits be formed in the program.

Let's not go into details and clarify what's behind every concept and how it affects the functioning of the economic system. What's important if you know the economy and are a trained expert you do not need a computer, you have enough of the logic of a healthy mind. And then, when you are approached by a politician or a capitalist, you just have to go from parameter to parameter (according to the scheme I've mentioned). You can easily tell him what will grow and what will fall in economy. If they are interested in how much the % result will be on the growth of unemployment or the growth of financial capital, the number can only be told by the computer, because the computer works with numbers and the man works with logic and imagination.

When I worked on combinations of the economic system by employing the logic of a healthy mind, considering how much the level of supply and demand shall be realized in the country you live in, I came to a couple of conclusions:

1 / the closed form of economy - to live only from its resources. That form of the economy can only work China. US has been complaining about a lack of its respect for human rights. But US does not want to help Chinese to have a better economic standard, which also means respect for human rights. Human freedom is measured by one's ability to achieve their interests.

2 / Continue to borrow money and and finally end up like Greece or

3 / our only chance is EU, but we have to force other EU politicians to design a new way of functioning of the economy - I have this PLAN-8 and it involves EU and Russia.

My plan could function regionally, ie if politicians do not associate globally, then the only thing we are left with is organizing regionally.

The only problem would be the energy. In that case it helps to be associated with Russia.

Let us analyze the PLAN-8:

1 / Creating a Politically Independent European Economic Organization (EEO), where experts of all profiles take care of the development of the economy. Politicians and capitalists will have to listen to those who have the knowledge and ability to do their job.

2 / Debts of all countries would be converted into EEO bonds. The bonds are returned by issuing new money to match the growth of the economy. Debt towards IMF is "frozen". Reasonable terms are agreed upon or all further co-operation are suspended.

Each time the debts reach the level of the annual DBP of the state, they are written off. They are taken by EEOs, but with the proof that they are deliberately exploited.

3 / EEO-Team for Economic and Political Problems, -if the citizens of a country are dissatisfied with their politicians EEO experts should be allowed to stabilize the social and economic relations of that country

4 / EUR - common currency already exists and needs to be imported into the real economy of all the countries.

5 / Introducing the distinction of trading with CONSUMER and LUXURY GOODS - when the state wants to protect standard of its citizens it introduces tax incentives.

6 / Increase social benefits - primarily because advances in technology reduce the need for human labor, so it will be enough to work less (6 hours) and jobs will increasingly be temporary. The oldest citizens (over 70 years) are given higher pensions in order to get better care.

7 / EEO-KB, if scientists were to find a solution for free unlimited energy, these bonds are given to those who have lost their income and profits because they can not make more amoney based on their own resources.

8 / Programs for EEIS and EFIS

EEIS - a program that monitors data on the functioning of the European economic system. If one indicator does not match (unemployment growth, the decline in profits, or any indicator that is not as planned) all of the data is immediately analyzed and the causes of the problem are removed.

This program can be made according to the program I was talking about at the beginning, with the difference that this program relies on real data, real economy.

EFIS - this program creates a "virtual" world of the European financial market. On the currency market currencies of all the European countries remain the same. Even if a politician of some EU + R state leads a contradictory policy that is not in line with the political ideals of Europe, my fellow brokers punish them by defrauding currency and the bonds of that state.

If Europe proves that this model works, it will soon accept and merge it all together. But for this one needs political will and courage to contradict those who claim to "know what they are doing". Because after the "fall" of socialism, economic superpowers lead economic wars among themselves, but also they lead hidden political wars - they all spy on each other through their secret services.

For this "covert" political war Americans use a "sophisticated model". It means that this is a heavily deployed war strategy in order to be maximally effective and useful, or to make it all work. This is also used for advanced technology. An example of such technology is the cell phone everyone has these days: internet, calculator, phone, alarm, camera ... and I think it will become so sophisticated to allow you to make a payment, replacing cash.

When a sophisticated plan of espionage and war strategy is devised, then all experts include economists, politicians, physicists, mathematicians, psychologists, sociologists, historians, and so on.

If one wants to destroy a country they use a system approach for the analysis of a society-state. One analyzes all the versions of the action plan and all the things one's opponent can do and counter actions are prepared in advance.

Let's take PUTIN as an example - arrogant, dominant, combative, unyielding, vindictive ... Putin likes to present himself as a hunter, a warrior, a fearless fighter. Generally, "good material" to be used for the destruction of Europe.

Sociologist and scholars know what Hitler and Napoleon have left in the collective memory of the Russian people. When economic sanctions break the Russian economy, the endangered existence and instinct of survival will easily point Russian people to stand by their war leader and get the revenge. Of course Americans will stand "in defense" with their "allies".

The war is not a solution to the crisis, and it has never been because it destroys all created values. In times of crisis money slowly disappears and leaks from the economy, and all resources are destroyed in the war.

I know this sounds like a conspiracy theory, and people love it. Do you wonder why I came to this conclusion? When it was voted to accuse Serbia of genocide, Russia vetoed that decision. They made a statement to a man in Belgrade who said in a vague voice: "Thank you to the Russians, but we will pay a great price." He was probably thinking about resigning Serbia's resources to Russia, but I understood it as a political problem as well.

It meant completely separating the politically conflicting sides and preparing for a war conflict.

I have also heard of another part of the sophisticated Russia's economic destruction plan: reducing oil prices. As artificially increased as they are, they can be reduced at any time.

Russia is accused of being guilty of war conflicts with Ukraine because it helps one of the conflicting parties. If there are conflicts of national interest in Ukraine, this is solely for economic reasons. There is no need to criticize the violence of one side, and to endorse the violence of the other side. They need to agree, and then the EU financially helps the Ukrainians and Russia Russians. And there would be peace. Neither the EU nor Russia benefits from the war in Ukraine. It is only in favor of America. Divide and rule.

If you are in debt, you have a master. You will have to do what the master is asking from you. But there is a problem of the financial market, which breathes only if it gets new "oxygen" - money. The collapse of the global economy will happen when stock markets crash again, and all of the money is withdrawn.

One thing is certain, America wants to be the only boss. If you have already accepted the currency that the American pays for, it means the American has the right to take over of all your resources -the right to buy them (this is called your export).

Today's monetary mass satisfies only the needs of America (and even that money has become scarce), while the rest of the world because of the money shortages destroys its economy. What is urgently needed is a GLOBAL MONETARY SYSTEM.

99.9% of the world's population does not understand how economy works. Those 0.10% who know it are well paid to stay silent. The IMF chairman once said that 0.7% of the funds are used to alleviate poverty in the world. But as we know 70% of the population is poor, has fewer than it really needs, and lives in debt, and is on the verge of hunger.

My lecture on the global economy's crises and its resolution would understood by high school students - slides and photos (used by economic and political marketing) so it is understandable to both the capitalists and the people. Therefore, its effect will be stronger than the strongest nuclear bomb. The problem is that the capitalist is not smart enough, even largely uneducated, and governs the world. He pays the one who has knowledge, but he has to do what capitalist wants.

IV. SOCIAL CRISIS

Here I give - the philosophical, religious, psychological, moral character of society - I REALLY aim to provoke you well.

At the beginning of this piece, I warned you, above all those who have been brought up in church dogmas, not to provoke them, but to the magnates (powerful, powerful) who, through the so-called NEW AGE movement, expect the truth to be hidden somewhere far away in the Universe and that all you have to do is discover, and you will be disappointed.

This part is purely my subjective perception and opinion of the human being - society. Before you start reading the 4th part of a book, know that it is intended, and it will be particularly interesting to the masters of this planet, who are not afraid of anything or anyone.

Popular politicians, chosen by angry people, choose wars for the destruction of their demanding people, while at the same time devaluing and undoing all the financial value of CAPITAL. It is evident that both the people and the rich want to resolve in peaceful and logical manner.

I have devised this TEXT as a STRATEGY to change their thinking and calmly tell them to start acting for the general good, but above all for their own good.

They need to be convinced that they really need to be afraid of themselves. Here I give an explanation of the evolution of the soul, and how the more superior civilizations in our universe have ended in this matter.

Six basic phases of the evolution of consciousness-soul

1. Animalistic - where consciousness reacts and obeys instincts
2. Primitive - these people on this planet, this form of consciousness-soul can take on the form of degenerative behavior because they still have animal impulses - desires, and therefore we have incredulous-lying people-who play with our trust and love, greedy people, pedophiles, rapists and murderers.
3. Reincarnation - the stage in which we must learn to respect self
4. Telepathy - a phase in the development of soul-consciousness in which we gain respect from other people
5. Kinetic abilities of consciousness - the stage in which consciousness governs energy, and it would be very destructive to have primitive souls at this level (with the urge for greed, envy, jealousy, infidelity, rape, pedophilia, murder)
6. Angelic souls - they are governed by energy and matter, but they do not have to be strictly in material form. At this stage you are an angel or a demon that are prone to fighting against each other. This must be avoided though.

More detail on this evolution of soul be explained below.

When there is an imbalance in the economy, it automatically results in social disturbances and all moral and spiritual values in the society are lost.

Economics and Society are very closely connected. If one gets poisoned the other one experiences poisoning as well. The Economy Crisis directly affects the Society. And social problems also jeopardize the functioning of the economy.

In order to have a world filled with love and happiness we need an economic system that does not show elemental behavior. Some economy theoreticians claim that a market economy has self-regulatory behavior. It regulates its own behavior and brings itself to balance. A system based on the behavior of people of primitive consciousness, can not be spontaneously balanced.

We are still primitive civilizations as far as the struggle with oneself and with its consciousness is concerned. Therefore, our SPEAKING - our KNOWLEDGE must grow to be face to face with the truth, so that we will not be dumbfounded and thus enabling others to make fools of us.

COMPLETE COGNITION DOES NOT ALLOW FOOLISHNESS

The New Age masters have a new religion - they believe that there is an answer to the immortality somewhere in the Universe, and that this by no means is God. Because throughout human history people have always invented gods, and there are always some kinds of beliefs and gods that are nothing helping a man unless a man took things in his hands and finally found solutions to his problems. Sometimes one thinks and creates, and sometimes takes the weapon in his hands. It all depends on what he has brought to himself.

Degradation of the WORLD and therefore the SOCIETY goes as follows;

CRAVING - ENVY - HATRED - VIOLENCE

FREEDOM \neq CRAVING + IGNORANCE + HATRED

FREEDOM = LOVE + COGNITION (KNOWLEDGE) + SPIRITUAL PEACE

Even after we satisfy our cravings, despite satisfaction, there remains a void that can be filled with only love and knowledge.

FREEDOM IS NOT A STATE OF CONSCIOUSNESS WHERE NO CRAVING, IGNORANCE AND HATRED are found.

INTEREST + AGREEMENT creates;

1 / HARMONY IN SOCIETY AND
2 / BALANCE IN THE ECONOMY

But because of the human way of organizing life, it can easily happen that animals evolve spiritually from us beforehand, so that they save us. The problem is that we treat animals even more inhumanly.

On the Internet you can find the alien species allegedly published by the Russians;

- LIZZARDS - hired soldiers, they did not physically evolve, there was no ice age on their planet
- OWNERS - the most technologically advanced
- SERVANTS - "little gray" - more afraid of death than earthlings
- GODS - "beings of light", for them all others can only be servants

GOD = LOVE – SELFISHNESS
DEMON = GREED + SELFISHNESS

Reading the book The Only Planet of Choice led me to the following conclusions;

1. Dinosaur destruction - as they became larger giants without further evolution
2. "planting" the Atlanteans 34,000 years ago, after 23,000 years and destroyed them, they were huge and lived for 300-500 years, debauched and immoral
3. Destruction of Neanderthals - because of their intellectual backwardness and physical-aesthetic defects
4. 11,000 years ago, today is a modern-day man who lives up to 100 years old, works frantically, breeds cubs and dies without true Cognition, without soul purity, without a healthy SPIRIT and a weak, sick mind
5. If we do not soon fill the limb for which we are "planted" here as an experiment, we will be destroyed for a new experiment - because they want to find the answer to becoming a LIGHT OF LIGHT scientifically - to artificially evolve their souls.

In a television show, they stated that Argentina had economically pulled off mass-grown soybeans, but they also showed a boy with a gray back. Which means that because of the large amount of pesticides we will all gray out, just like aliens.

We all become a gray mass with black souls - FALLEN ANGELS

To attract investors to the stock markets, they are now desperately hiring mathematicians, computer scientists and even physicists. All they want to do is impress their future investors with their formulas, spreadsheets and charts, and all the fuss is about getting more money on the stock market, the higher the stock market value.

A global economic system that is strictly regulated and "subdued" to IT information systems needs to be built. Nikola Tesla said in a speech to journalists at the beginning of the last century that electromagnetic energy would be able to transmit sound, images, energy and matter. We are now transferring the sound and the picture, but energy and matter cannot be won because with them the greedy grew their profit.

It is about time the economic and financial system are changed, thus continuing further economic and social DEVELOPMENT. There is a technical prerequisite for this - IT technology - which enables us to develop greater democracies in the decision-making process of the people and the new games for government (ELITE) - new games of power and prosperity.

Market and trading (which is still exclusive to food, energy and medicine) leads to the lack of any economic growth. Politicians claim that there is a growth of several percent, but it is only because the statistical sample includes only these three goods, and since corporations gradually increase the prices of these products to increase profits (not to increase salaries), it is clear that the growth does not exist and more money is drawn from our pockets.

While the arrogant corporate managers and stockbrokers continue to earn 100 million bonuses, all of us are getting poorer. The solution still remains in the hands of the political elite - which solves it solely in the bloody and devastating wars. Famous philosopher Hegel, in his book "History of Philosophy," said that two different types of philosophies were developed at the same time, Western and Eastern. While in the West religious development has stopped and moved on to the development of science, Eastern philosophy has been developing a religious thought. This has resulted in scientific advances from the West steadily shifting to the East, and Eastern religion increasingly undermines the religious beliefs of the West, which will, thanks to IT technology, become ever stronger.

Western civilization claims that because of its religion it is more emotional, but as it is stronger in humanity, it is even stronger in inhumane behavior - evidence are two World Wars that started in Europe and the Crusades of Wars (wars on behalf of the Christian God) to Ottoman conquest.

Eastern philosophy and religion strives for the development of inner consciousness in the so-called higher degree of consciousness. For example, we all know that we always observe, condemn, criticize another - while we almost never think about our own thoughts, actions and behavior, and our own mistakes. As soon as you focus attention on yourself, you start becoming self-conscious and gradually self-reliant, and the behavior of others becomes irrelevant, because it is crystal clear to you that this is just their problem and you are not experiencing it as yours any more.

Your problem is solely your behavior and your state of consciousness, which stems from the perception of the functioning of your own consciousness pursuing only useful and liberating knowledge.

It is well known that most people think themselves perfect and satisfyingly smart. They think though they have not had the luck with their physical appearance, which is not in line with the inner higher being. So you do not want to think about your actions, thoughts, and spoken words.

Everybody sees only imperfections in their physical appearance, and though they insist the inner beauty is essential although that beauty is rarely looked into.

Because of too many obligations and too little time, we do not pay enough attention to our own awareness and we fill it up with all sorts of trash. We allow our environment, primarily the media and strategies of multinational corporations to strengthen consumerism, to create only empty shells out of us with fewer knowledge and more dissatisfaction and longing.

Western Religious thought has invented dogmas that can not be criticized or changed, and Church is constantly expanding the list of sins for which the punishment is prayer. Eastern philosophy and religion actually insists on continuing to question, develop and enrich their religious notions based on fundamental beliefs.

No matter how much our everyday life has been made easier by developing technology and no matter what degree of religious, scientific and philosophical cognition our civilization has achieved deep within us a genuine instinct for self-preservation is still buried.

When the economic crisis happens a primal urge that was present in the days of tribal conflicts appears. When the tribe is exposed to drought and is left without water and the number of game decreases, the tribes are focused on destroying the other tribe. That way their children will have enough to eat - that means that the children of the other tribe should be killed. This urge to destroy others to provide for survival is genetically embedded in our subconscious, and when it comes to CRISIS, immediately think about your children and whether they will have enough food tomorrow. Therefore because of too much ANXIETY AND STRESS, the tremendous fear is accumulating over time. There is only one thought on one's mind - do everything to save the children.

Then the POLITICIANS (I call them schedulers) come on the scene. They call themselves the leaders of the people, and they lead their nations into bloody wars with each other.

CRISIS exclusively "drains" MONEY from the MARKET, which means that the RESOURCES are not accessible - assets are hard to reach and needs are not met.

In Socialism, money is not overvalued as in Capitalism. So in Socialism we have a depreciation of money - INFLATION. In Capitalism this cannot happen, the value of MONEY is preserved at the cost of all human lives, because MONEY means CAPITAL and it means POWER and WEALTH.

In Socialism, money is distributed to workers even though there are not enough resources for it. In Capitalism, money is first denied to workers because poverty, hunger and wars are the price that must be paid to preserve CAPITAL.

Buddhists have a Mantra that aims to expel thoughts from consciousness, which because of their excessive intensity, energy damage and consciousness (SOUL) and body, make one sick both physically and mentally. It is called STRESS because of fear, sadness, craving, greed, hate, envy, lies Right at the beginning of this section, I would like to introduce you to the Indian wisdom about donkey and carrot - when you give a donkey a carrot he will not work, but when the carrot is constantly waved in front of his nose, the donkey works like crazy. Such is the story with the working class. In socialism, workers were given all the jobs, wages, apartments, bad cars... Although they had almost everything, they wanted to have as much as possible but to work less. Now, in capitalism, they work for minimal wage, or they work without pay because commercial marketing through advertisements creates a craving for the need for unnecessary things.

The difference between Socialism and Capitalism can be shown as two plate. In socialism the cake on a plate is not particularly tastefully made, but is consumed entirely and is surrounded by a constantly-inflated balloon (inflation). In capitalism there is a very tasty cake that is wrapped in gold foil. The tragedy is that the demand for gold foil is high, and so the cake and the gold foil (money) gradually disappear from the plate.

The world is not driven by love, but by greed - the love of money for which we are ready to do anything. At the same time, our spiritual world is becoming more primitive, because all we feel is painful boredom, which is why we are increasingly entertained by violence (violence news on TV, movies and series that contain violence). Our need to have fun solely by watching violence speaks volumes about ourselves, and especially what the whole society is striving for, and that is to solve problems through violence – through war like it has been done so many times throughout human history.

Our down-to-earth primitive consciousness, filled with negative energy (hatred, greed and envy), also leads to disturbances in nature (strong earthquakes, more and more devastating storms), it tells us that we are connected with our mother earth by an umbilical cord and ever stronger negative electromagnetic charge of our souls destroys what has actually given us all we have. And it would be great cosmic justice if we destroy ourselves in the end which we will most likely do.

In Thailand, the hardest curse you can get is to be reincarnated into a hen. Positive energy of consciousness (love above all) allows one to reincarnate again in a man and give oneself and one's children a better karma-faith. God will certainly not create another land as Paradise for us. He knows very well that Paradise would be destroyed very soon because we come into it with souls full of greed and hatred.

The degradation of the morals of man and society goes in this order of desire-envy-greed-hate-violence. Commercial marketing ads create unnecessary cravings, if we do not realize them we feel envy that grows into greed for money, and political marketing completely reverses our orientation so that in the end we see the only way out in violence and usually punish the innocent.

They say we're all depressed. Depression, for me, is just a big pile of sadness; because of deceived emotions, unrequited cravings and unfulfilled life goals.

Maybe I am exaggerating, because I'm too scared myself, but if only a fraction of what I said was true, please understand that we still have plenty of time for change.

In addition to Money (because people are willing to do anything for money), people are also manipulated by RELIGION. When wages go down - the crisis of the economy arises, followed by the crisis of the SOCIETY (read MORALS), which ultimately leads to war - war conflicts are created to reduce population - people are destroyed.

The world is divided on a religious basis, no longer racially or socially, but strictly religiously. Religion divides us and Money exploits us. It is crystal clear why Religions and Money are the easiest means of manipulating people.

Fear is the weapon of capitalism, and its tools are Religion and Money. One serves to divide people (grouping) and the other decides whether or not you will be hungry tomorrow. Because that old saying "divide and rule" has taught us nothing. I get frustrated by the fact that I have to repeat it, because I know that it will not be of any use to our bloody future. People are blind and deaf. They want to see money and only money in their hands, and their ears are full of false truths and hopes given by their indoctrinated priests. Let the Church say at least once; "Don't blame the wrong ones, don't blame it on those who are innocent." This will never be said by the Church. You will only hear why and how sinful you are and how big the sins of others are, in fact, the dumb "gossip" of normal human life.

Workers only need to show PHYSICAL AND PSYCHICAL EXCELLENCE. If they do not they are excluded from the distribution of resources. There is no money for them. In socialism, parents used to say to bad students: "Learn, study - or you will have to take a shovel in your hands." Today, one should be happy if they get a chance to get any kind of job. Those dismissed and excluded from the distribution are given social assistance, although the state will have to give it up because it is indebted and will not have enough in the future to pay increasing interest rates on its national debts.

If you were an employer, an entrepreneur, would you hire someone who is poorly educated, slow, and at the same time making mistakes that you need to correct? Such an employee can in no way help you survive in a competitive market. And today's market is not a logical economy. It is a lottery. If the consumer chooses to get a loan - then you also have a chance.

We live in a world where, as partners, we only need the fittest, not the bad students and slackers. Such people did well in Socialism, which is why Socialism failed. The workers from Socialism have "gawked" at the benefits offered by Capitalism. But now, as they live in Capitalism, They turned themselves into consumable, worthless, useless good. Only those who are the highest quality are required.

The difference between socialism and capitalism, for me as an accountant, is that in socialism the surplus income was divided into funds (housing, development fund and common consumption fund), after the salaries and wages of the State were divided. The more successful the collective was in the market, the more it benefited from its work (higher salaries and funds). In capitalism, all surpluses are distributed to the owners of Capital.

There are different religious concepts of worldview, which interpret the will of God in the sense that as much as possible our planet is filled. Let's play a little math in that sense; there are about 8 billion people in the world today, if we divide that by 2 we get 4 billion couples for breeding, more or less. And according to the church concept, they should have at least 10 children, if they can start breeding from the age of 20, that is in one century (100/20) five generations: $8/2 = 4 * 10 = 40 * 5 = 200$ billion people in just one century.

According to the "law of God", the one who multiplies most survives and survives, and according to the rulers of the "World Government In Shaddow", the one who possesses all the knowledge and the latest technology and technology is destined to decide who stays and who is "deleted".

Now, it is actually clear to me when they say that the crisis is only a "great opportunity for the fittest," because the crisis always ends with a war. As World War 3 happens, don't hope that you will be in the chosen one billion. It is more likely you will be among those 7 billion who need to be "wiped out" from the face of the earth.

Current technology can provide new answers and solutions to our problems; even though those are not shared with the public.

- 1) It is possible to make a powered engine and an energy generator while some of the energy is consumed, some of it is also used to induce, new energy. This device is sufficient on its own, does not need fuel or a nuclear reactor or any other energy generators consuming independent power resources.
- 2) Genetics can produce organs for transplantation, and genetically modified mushrooms can produce meat without breeding and slaughtering animals.
- 3) Chemistry can provide answers to so-called mixture theory, where from a huge accumulation of garbage we can produce all kinds of new mixtures-materials of different quality and quality
- 4) So far, science has enabled the use of radioactive energy (energy of the nucleus of an atom), the use of electromagnetic (energy from the surface of an atom). We also have lasers, which is actually the energy of light. There is only energy of sound that is not as known. There is a problem in relation to space and time that gives us the opportunity to travel space.

All three known energies are frequencies that use matter for energy, ie, the creation of a particular frequency; radiation, electricity, light beam or laser light energy, they coexist - exist in this space, in the dimensions known to us, while sound is a higher energy frequency distance, so there are supersonic planes. But what if there are more sound barriers and one of them is overcoming space-time problems.

All of the above and much more is getting prepared for the "chosen".

Now, one can see why the global crisis is not going to be solved and why no solution is being found. It is, in fact, an opportunity to cleanse the planet of unnecessary people, who are so angry and lazy to change. They just want to receive, and have nothing to give.

I know this sounds morbid or scary, but in the human genome, there is probably a written program that drives us to self-destruction. We are programmed to exaggerate everything, to the point that we sometimes cross the boundaries of reason.

The main problem that needs to be addressed in the crisis is unemployment and how to increase wages. That is where the old problem comes up: what came first, a hen or an egg.

For higher wages more goods and services need to be produced, more new values on the market. But how to increase sales and production when consumers have no money?

In the 1930s, the US government introduced public work to get people to make money, and those investments were encouraged by the government's debt. The States can no longer do it because they have debt over their heads.

In Croatia we have approximately 1 million employees * 5000 average salary * 12 months + 50% of the gross salary for retirement, education and maintenance, and government funded debt – it is approximately 100 billion of GDP per year.

If spending goes down and 5% means wages must be reduced or workers fired. But let's say that the government has no debt and is just starting to borrow and spending 10% in 10 years would mean that in the 10th year they would have 200 billion GDP, ie 100% higher wages and a higher standard. Wages would be double and the production of new values (goods and services) would be double - welfare would increase - Dining is increasing, as the peasants would tell me.

You cannot raise wages in these and such conditions without raising prices, which means safe inflation, so consumers are realistically not getting more goods and services again. But if the states were completely free of debt - and switched to investing in rebuilding dilapidated infrastructure, which was created in some better times, but also investing in new infrastructure - to an even better standard. One of the good incentives is to give LOWER INCOME to lower-income citizens.

All this will not have any positive effect if multinational corporations are not limited to profit on consumable goods - because they will turn all the money invested in economic recovery into extra profit rather than an increase in wages. If profit is limited to 5% per year, this does not mean that profit will remain the same in absolute terms if sales grow and profits increase, eg if sales increase from 100 mil to 200 mil, it means that profit from 5 will increase to 10 mil, they profit would increase, while the supply of goods and services and the purchasing power (wages) increased at the same time. The profitability is the same, but the profitability for Capital is twice as high.

Let me clarify the terms a bit:

PROFITABILITY is the percentage of profit (earnings) in a corporation's income.

Profitability comes from the word rent, which means what is the capitalist's rent - a percentage of the profit relative to the invested capital in the corporation.

Now I'm going to tell you something about the so-called BAKNAROIDS - it's a new term for workers in the financial sector. Bankroids have become masters of the whole economy - they are actually deciding now on life and death. If they close their valve - everything goes down. They are the heart of an organism called economics. It draws in and returns blood through the body.

If spending goes down even 5% it means wages must be reduced or workers fired. But let's say that the government has no debt and is just starting to borrow and is spending 10% in 10 years – that would mean that in the 10th year they would have 200 billion GDP, ie 100% higher wages and a higher standard. But if the states were completely free of debt - and switched to investing in rebuilding dilapidated infrastructure, which was created in some better times, but also investing in new infrastructure - to an even better standard. One of the good incentives is to give basic income to lower-income citizens.

All this will not have any positive effect if multinational corporations are not limited to profit on consumable goods - because they will turn all the money invested in economic recovery into extra profit rather than an increase in wages. If profit is limited to 5% per year, this does not mean that profit will remain the same in absolute terms if sales grow and profits increase, eg if sales increase from 100 mil to 200 mil, it means that profit from 5 will increase to 10 mil, they profit would increase, while the supply of goods and services and the purchasing power (wages) increased at the same time. BAKNAROIDS - it's a new term for workers in the financial sector. Bankroids have become masters of the whole economy - they are actually deciding now on life and death. If they close their valve - everything goes to pieces. They are the heart of an organism called economics. It draws in and returns blood through the body.

But if there is a major disruption to their operations (stock speculation in the 1930s, or mortgage speculation by 2008), the Bankroids, as a super powerful compressor, suck out the last drop of blood from the economic system. ECONOMY and SOCIETY cease to function, ie there are disturbances: unemployment, hunger, wars....

Money is not a number in your bank account. There is a much smaller number that will end up in the bank accounts of the richest. Other banks will remain in the "minus" and "red" and your number in these banks will be absolutely insignificant.

Bankroids are now also hiring physicists who have their own formulas for predicting the future of economic and financial current. They bring together investors and physicists present their calculations. Those show how much is to be invested in various securities.

Normally they will get approximate results as all parameters-determiners are pre-determined. If the investors are drawn in with big promises it is not difficult to calculate how much they will earn by constantly investing under certain conditions.

To explain the main difference between socialism and capitalism as we distinguish between the greed of the workers and the greed of the capitalist.

In socialism, economics is one plate on which a very unusual cake is made, which was consumed entirely because it found itself in a large inflated bubble called Money.

In Capitalism, there is a plate on which the cake is very sweet and wrapped in a gold foil so that workers cannot get to unwrap it and eat it.

The reason for this is that Capital constantly complains about the burdens that represent the cost of wages for workers and State . His goal is much of the cake, and he was putting constant pressure. Decreases the value of the work. But time actually cuts the branch it sits on because it took the gold foil, not the cake - it directly directly downplays the reality of the new gold foil that everyone needs.

Old Indian wisdom says that most people act like a stubborn donkey. When given carrots as much as he wants the donkey becomes lazy and would not move.

However, when you wave a carrot in front of his nose, he works like crazy. Translated - workers in Socialism did not want to work because they were always "underpaid". Now, under Capitalism, they are poorly paid or work without pay, but they work in vain because commercial and political marketing "Scratch" them with advertisements and slogans (lies) about a better life.

There was only one political option in Socialism - the Communist Party. In capitalism, we have only two political options to choose from; left and right, and they have different names (Republicans and Democrats, Conservatives and Labor, Social Democrats, etc.). But the question is; what is a real difference between them?

Right option political theorists argue that the elite must be empowered first, when it becomes rich it takes care of the prosperity of the people (Tudjman's 200 wealthy families), then the elite distributes donations and charity. So, according to them, well-being goes from top to bottom.

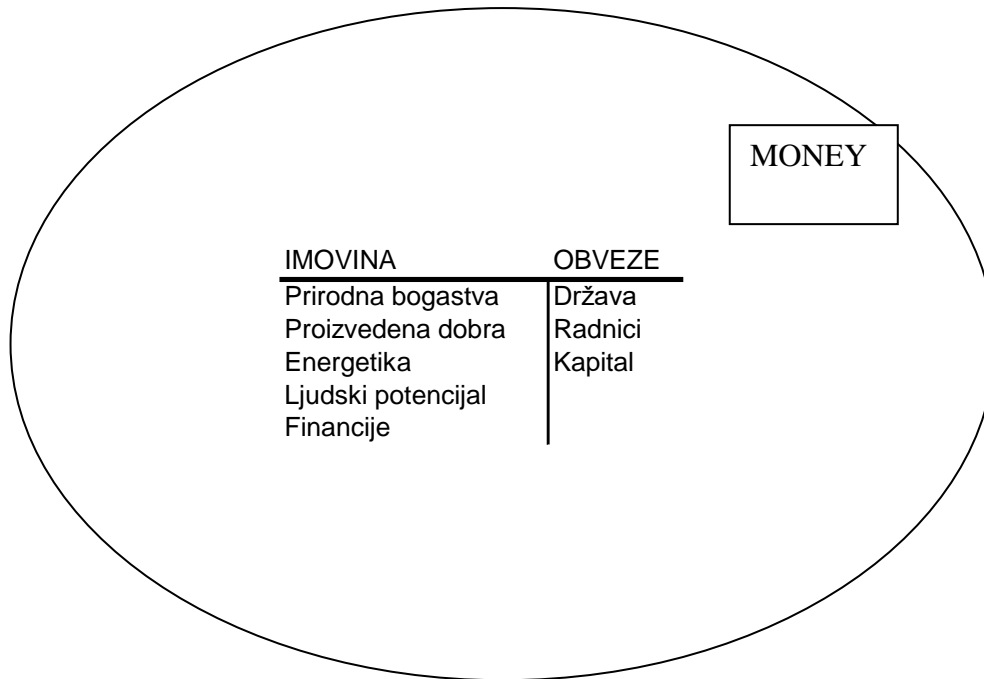

The socialists, on the other hand, claim; only if the people get rich will they have a richer elite, then well-being can only happen if we take care of everyone equally. Development goes from the bottom up.

Why are none of these political models of the functioning of the economy counted?

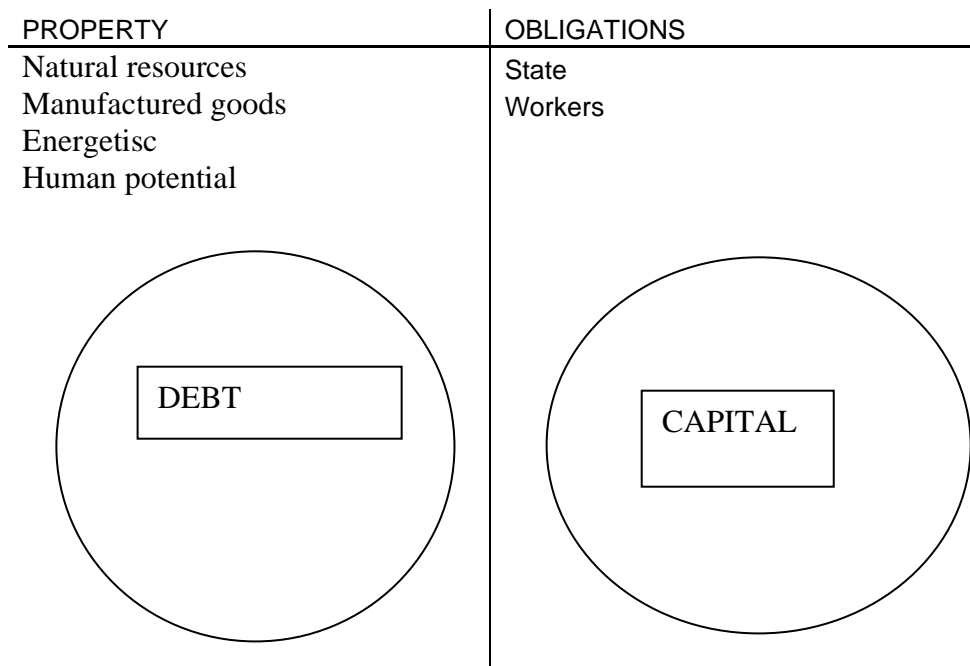

I'll explain to you, the matter is very simple - because of the so-called "balloons" caused by excessive greed. Let us imagine an economy with all its elements;

In socialism, the Party pursued a policy to solve all problems with money, so that a BALON of MONEY MASS was created around the economy with no resources to satisfy it. This way, the money was completely depreciated. Material goods were respected and not monetary. So in socialism there were two phenomena: HYPER INFLATION and LACK OF GOODS IN STORES.

In capitalism it is very important that money's value is overrated compared to the other goods and services. Furthermore Capital has a bigger value compared to work.

On one hand there are the debts of the state, businesses and workers, and on the other, a huge accumulation of financial capital. These are two balloons that, as is always the case with balloons, are so tense that the question is when they will burst and drag us all into disarray and chaos. Here just as in the socialist balloon, the problem lies in intemperance - uncontrolled greed. Equity ownership puts a heavy strain on the economy and the state to maximize their profits, and the state and workers in the face of increasing money scarcity maintain the standard by getting loans.

Recently, I watched an American movie called "Elysium" on television that clearly shows what Americans think about today's world and its future. The rich elite, who escapes the poor, and move to an artificial satellite in Earth's orbit. It is very significant that they speak French there - which tells the Americans that the EU will conquer them in this new war between economic powers. Run by the currency market, the EU will win and leave America economically devastated. The Americans, in that movie, ended up at the very bottom among criminals (portrayed here as Mexicans) without any medical care.

This film was therefore crucial to Trump's victory, as he subconsciously instilled in the American consciousness who his real enemies were to fight (EU + Russia and Mexicans and other immigrants who only bring their problems with them).

There are three major evils in Buddhism: craving, hate and ignorance.

Trump's victory in the US presidential election did not surprise me at all. He is convinced he knows what he is doing. But the American secret service will let him know what the real situation is like.

As they have the psychology of brainwashing around the world, so have the experts who outshine their own president. Because of the real estate market crisis, Trump had several bankruptcies. In order to get out, he had to sell off his real estate and get new loans.

Therefore, like every desperate American, he is convinced that if the inner American economy is strengthened, everything will be in order - with high salaries and a high standard. But that is not the case. Those who voted for Trump are convinced that someone else is to blame for the crisis and they do not want to admit they are to blame as well

And these are the three major evils that I mentioned at the beginning: craving, hatred and ignorance.

Craving for lost privileges, better times, ignorance of the root causes of the crisis, and hatred of everyone who is to blame for mistakes. For Trump it will most likely be Chinese because they have conquered all markets with their diligent cheap work.

Profit is the main and only goal of today's world, has major objections to tax burdens. Taxes are the main source of funds for the state so that it can take care of society (people). Therefore, Trump, guided by his needs and desires rather than knowledge — wants to reduce them as much as possible.

And as for the rise of the standard of his voters - before globalization, an American worker waaaaas making around $ 100,000.00 a year, at the beginning of globalization it was down to $ 50,000.00 a year. One could have profitted a lot from a reduction in salaries or layoffs. Now the income of an American is approximately $ 20,000.00 a year. But capital feels that as a huge burden that is holding it back in its competitiveness and maximizing profitability.

The Croatian word for a POLITICIAN should be a DISTRIBUTOR. Why this particular term? The point is very simple politicians-distributors have three phases of deployment;

Phase 1; during elections they distribute the electorate (people) to those who are for and against them.

2nd stage; after the election, when they win, they allocate money (state budget) to those who are most responsible for their victory, and then to pensions, health care, education and more.

Phase 3; during a crisis, and a crisis is a normal occurrence in an economy and society governed by greed, when people in crisis feel that their existence is threatened, then the schedulers, in a soldier's dictionary, consolidate (consolidate) the ranks or divide the people into groups that will at crucial moment enter a bloody war conflict.

DISTRIBUTORS seeks to win the power. They see themselves as leaders of the people. In fact the PEOPLE are just a group of angry humans who are hard to please, and therefore their hatred, descended from all kinds of longings, should be directed to destroy something or someone. American writer Steinbeck put it nicely; "The poor do not see themselves as an exploited proletariat, but as a millionaire who has temporarily fallen in love." And he wants to find and destroy the culprit for being stuck.

Due to our ignorance, burdened by great longing, we are easy prey for scheduling politicians to teach us to hate. The essential information are suffocated in the nonsense - a touch fear of extremists, a touch of fear of daily existence, a touch of fear of losing basic human rights if we were ever free ... An ignorant man is easily convinced of everything, even if he is free.

They say that NIRVANA of the soul is when we extinguish bad passions, and we cannot do this unless we have the knowledgcan of the truth that liberates us and opens the way to LOVE, not to HATE.

As wise people say: we are only a moment in infinity. So let's not spoil it with unnecessary cravings, let us keep it quiet and try to control our passions, seek knowledge and truth, and give love and attention to the people who really deserve it, not the people who hate and steal. This should by no means be a role model for our life.

This way we give all our life force and money to those who already have too much and will never have enough.

For me as an economist, things are too simple, for what is being created there must be money. For greed as the basic craving of a today's man also needs money.

There is absolutely no problem to create new money for new values in the real world, to make money for the greedy and in the "virtual" world-the world of finance. That is the main economic rule - the balance is in balance;

- for us - as much resources created as much money in the real world - WEM or EUR
- for the powerful and the greedy - so much Capital as much money, is the market-generated return on Capital in the "virtual" world of financial market computers, needs the same new money

There is too much pressure now to reduce the value of real-world labor and resources to secure as much capital as possible in the virtual world. And a tarnished and ruined economy does not give enough to anyone.

Economy is just pure numbers in computer bases. We should not let mere numbers govern and create social processes. We should turn numbers in our favor and let those numbers reflect the true state of our capabilities.

I am aware that the word DISTRIBUTOR sounds very harsh, even offensive. But it is only for the reason that it speaks exactly who they really are and fiercely punches their conscience. The word POLITICIAN is rather refined. They want us to believe that. But the harsh truth is hidden - lies, deceptions and destruction in order to go back to the renewal of spirit and life afterwards.

As much as I like Trump's policy of military interference in the political problems of other countries, I am so terrified of his intention to isolate the US economy, because huge US spending enables all economies of the world, and most of all, China, to survive.

Chinese consumption sustains the European and, above all German economy. The interconnectedness of the world economies will collapse and create a huge and incomprehensible crisis.

Europe and the World have no ready answer to this isolationist policy and will soon fall into enormous problems that will lead to great social problems, because we have to remember that a MAN IS FREE as long as he can realize his interest.

If he does not accomplish it, then he takes up arms (war) to accomplish what he wants.

ANALYSIS OF AMERICAN ECONOMY

1. ASSETS-resources

1.1.Natural resources - America has everything it needs to survive completely - forests, drinking water, fertile ground, ocean - all of this is underutilized as the US solely relies upon cheap imported food. When they activate their natural wealth through government subsidies, they eliminate all the counties that survive on American agricultural produce.

1.2.Produced goods - almost all production and construction is destroyed. For its restoration significant investments are needed for automation and robotization. When it is achieved it becomes entirely an independent economy.

1.3.Energy - in terms of energy sources, the main sources are in Kuwait and Saudi Arabia which are economically dependant on US.

1.4.Human Resource - America has accumulated a whole bunch of foreign brains over the last decade. Its educational system is the worst in the world. So under Trump, America will only take from the world what it needs most.

1.5.Finance - this sector of the economy will create the most headaches for Trump. Capital will provide the most resistance. Because the so-called "Economies of scale" and globalization Capital has ensured that it has expanded and that it has accumulated faster. When multinational corporations are restricted to the US only, they are deprived of other markets and increase their rental capital over time, which means a decline in the value of stocks and big, big problems on the stock markets. Therefore, Trump will have to accept the conditions for further expansion, which is contradictory to the promise of America's self-sufficiency in everything.

Us debt will grow more and more exclusively from the primary issue of money-dollars. As a rule, it also means an influx of World Capital..

2.OBLIGATIONS

2.1.The state - it will still have to get loans because Trump had promised Capital he would cut taxes. He will introduce state protectionism - huge tariffs on imported goods.

2.2.Workers - it will not be possible to make an immediate increase in workers' wages. To achieve that it would be necessary to return the value of goods and service to what it was before globalisation. That will be a sign to Trump who is the boss - Capital.

2.3. Capital, Without a consensus - a comprehensive agreement that establishes state's and capital's mutual rights and obligations. Above all how much and when the capital will exercise its interests - profit. A large expansion of the country's borrowing will enable Capital to do business without a loss. All the goods and services will have a market for their realization. However, profit will not be as high as it was during the best years of globalization.

Trumps administration will not agree with 5% of wealthy population that owns 99% of world's capital on how it will make profit locally. They will also have to realize they bought the whole world with their money through the IMF.

Does the world, above all Europe, have a response to this situation?! They do not because all the problems get solved when they occur. The only way out would be for EU to spend enormously and borrow frantically, like the USA, to print EUR. But for this thing is a tradition, that the whole world will "appreciate" EUR like it is USD.

If that does not happen we will all be in ta very difficult situation. Our economy will experience such a depression that a war economy will be the only way out again. America is the one profiting the most because of its advanced military industry.

To conclude, America's strict isolationism means the collapse of all the world's economies, which are too old to adapt or restructure for new economic conditions.

If a little man makes a decision, he must demand from the Sophisticated ELITE to complete the process of globalization by setting out the elements of the global organization of the economy. American isolation will not be our problem but their.

US could have been a true leader of the World Economy but now only the EU can take on this role because of its culture and traditions respected by the entire World. I am referring to respect for human rights.

I am a trained economist. I have experience working in bank and bookkeeping for entrepreneurs. I know firsthand, as an expert, what kind of organizational upgrade of the world economic system is needed so that regular people can breathe and work normally.

We just need to set everything up, organize it properly, in order to achieve all our common interests, wellbeing above all, and therefore freedom in all its forms.

Society according to me has two trinities, the holy and the hellish trinity, as I call them. By this I want to explain to you how society works, ie what are the forces that pull society towards evil and which towards good, ie what determines the behavior of society.

By holy earthly trinity I mean three professions that I admire and respect, these are:

- 1) Teachers
- 2) Doctors
- 3) Housewives

This trinity is assisted by the scientists.

They are sacred and extremely important for life, harmony and balance in human society.

1 / Teachers prepare our psyche and give us knowledge so that we can make the most of our mental and physical abilities. They prepare us to be effective in society - they give us KNOWLEDGE.

2 / Doctors - They take care of our physical shell, giving us an important prerequisite to survive in social adversity - HEALTH.

3 / Housewives - They care about the cleanliness and comfort of our environment, where we live, feed us, wash, etc. They create a HOME for us. They do this, and they have always worked for free, and because of this, no one has ever appreciated them, because in a society like capitalism, which means only profit, the one who works out of love is silly for working free and therefore does not deserve our respect. Because of this women have always been second-class citizens and have suffered psychological and often physical abuse.

The helpers of this holy earthly trinity are the Scientists, because they greatly facilitate the work of Teachers, Doctors and Housewives. Each new scientific discovery means a new step forward in the development of our human civilization.

Now I move on to the earthly hellish trinity, these are:

- 1) politicians
- 2) press
- 3) army

And the sole helper in the success of their work is the Church.

After World War II Nazi soldiers were at their trial, programmed to say "we were only carrying out our duty" without the sound of shame or remorse being heard in their words. In order for me to respect their profession, they must be the protector of the powerless, not their executioner-killer.

Journalists – They influence public opinion using language and sometimes they do it in a very manipulative ways.

The aim of the Politician was to instill hatred deep in the memory of the Croatian man and to remain there for centuries - as the church jargon puts it nicely. Because this subconscious marker of behavior has always been very useful for politicians to overcome economic crises, ie the use of poor sections of society to kill and destroy.

So people become programmed and very useful killer machines. By using generalisation they create the idea that others are bad just by belonging to another religion, or more precisely to another Church, to another "temple of God," so to speak. Prejudices are created and because of them we can no longer overcome our diversity - we realize that we are different and it is difficult to get over it.

The church and politicians are hypocritically concerned about mutual tolerance, coexistence and tolerance. On the other hand, they have programmed us in a completely different way - to put just a specific political or religious symbol as programmed hordes of destruction, they know how ignite hatred only for their own interests. They do it using old, tried and tested methods. They camouflage it by talking of love, faith, nation and homeland.

Politicians - supreme leaders. When they bring the economy and society to the brink of hell, they are the ones who come to power by your own free will, using only the false promises you believed. In peace, I simply call them "Attempts" because in peace they try to distribute our money from the budget, and in war, they no longer decide about our money but our lives, whether we will see the next day or not.

I will now explain why the Church is a very good helper to this hellish trinity: Politicians-Journalists-Army.

As I stated before, there are exclusively positive and exclusively negative people. I'm not saying there are bugs in every cereal, so exceptions to the rules may appear with these.

That is why I claim that the Church helps create hell, not paradise on earth.

National, racial, ideological and other is no longer a priority, our hatred is solely based on which "temple of God" we belong to or do not belong to (Muslim, Catholic, Protestant, Orthodox, Hindu, Buddhist, etc.). And hatred is the strongest among those who believe into one God. It is hilarious and ironic that the opposite is true, that we hate ourselves for race, our natural despondency. We hate ourselves solely for the differences in which "temple of God" we go to, that is terrible and tragic. This will be our priority way of differentiating ourselves in the next war. As in the dark middleages, it will be a great religious war.

There are over 8 billion people on this planet, almost equal to the total number of people that existed at all. There weren't many caves in which the first humans could have found the shelter in the face of winter and trouble. Now that we're building our own caves, we're spoiled.

But maybe this is the moment of the development of human consciousness when we need to start reincarnating the memories of our past lives. Maybe actually everyone has only two lives, one primitive and the other cosmic.

Jesus himself said that after two millennia he would return again among us. But how will this be accomplished if not by reincarnation, which the Church, that swears to be Jesus' church, declared to reject reincarnation. If this is not the moment to return, then what is it?

We probably don't remember our past life because our minds have been clouded with the greed for Money and HATE led by Religious affiliation.

God made it clear to the first Jews (Abraham and Moses), whom He addressed - I did not want any temples and statues in my name. And now the Churches are more important than human life that God created, because they are the so-called guardians of souls. And in these 2000 years as there are Churches, neither souls nor lives are guarded. Wars were fought in the name of God, ie the Church.

In a HRT's show "On the Edge of Science: A History of Reincarnation Research," the Church threw out reincarnation in 553 AD because of the Empress Theodore, a former courtesan, who tortured her 500 ex-courtesans, so as not to reveal her past. This would have caused her bad Karma, ie reincarnation through multiple lives. Pope Vigilius was asked to remove reincarnation from church dogmas.

Reincarnation in that early Christian era was called "Origin teaching". Origin was one of the theological priests of the time. And so, because of the removal of reincarnation from the Christian Churches, in exchange for religious dogmas, we were given Paradise and Hell, as a new solution for good and evil people.

The church has decided that there is no reincarnation but that there is Satan, and thus Paradise and Hell created by God for his children. In addition to creating a planet that meets all our needs, the Church also ask for "special" places. Of course we need them because we intend to destroy this planet and urgently ask God for a new one. By that we continue our fun war games. This a completely normal and acceptable form of behavior for us - war and only war.

So the Church established itself as the sole mediator between God and the People, so that God was only allowed to speak to "fools", the people whose souls are attacked and destroyed by our "normal" behavior. And when a madman cracks he talks to God first. He talks to God, and looks for answers for all that nonsense he experiences.

In my opinion, the Church acted very stupidly for removing reincarnation from its theological debates, thereby making us mentally totally excluded - we are divided by gender, religion, nation, race and ideology. We are marked with these differences for centuries, and our aim is to be in conflict with each other and therefore to create wars with each other. And in response to these problems, the Church offered Satan and Paradise and Hell.

The other folly of the Church, in addition to deciding to abolish reincarnation, is its claim that it is a sin to get an abortion. Some churches ask their believers to have a pack of children. One must have at least four children to receive blessing and love of God. If so, why did God create only two children for himself - female and male, Adam and Eve? To keep him company?

Eve was persuaded by a serpent (or Satan) to bite an apple even though their father forbade it. Adam and Eve committed another sin in addition to disobeying their father. They lied as well to get away from punishment. But how did God know they lied if animals do not speak?

Adam and Eve wanted to pass on their sin to an innocent animal that happened to be in a tree and used her to make sense of their lie. And they both lied to God's face. But animals do not speak and good church dogma only likes the part of the story where the snake speaks.

Wondering why our grandparents, Adam and Eve, lied? The answer is simple: shame. For the same reason, for example, the German people would feel the need to lie to their children about what they did to Jews. But they live in a world that will not forgive them a lie. Adam and Eve called the innocent animal Satan because of the shame they felt for committing their sin. The animal is not to blame. They are to blame.

Now there is a battle between the Creationist and the Evolutionist. In fact, creationists are vehemently attacking evolutionists that it is precisely the scientific discovery of genetics that speaks to the existence of the Creator. They are not being critical of the nonsense they are talking about. They are, in fact, completely non-critical of dogmas that are constantly rattling and crushing us.

God appreciates and respects animals more than we do. But He loves us all just as a true father.

Unfortunately, the spark of life for the development of human civilization is in greed, not in love, which is why capitalism, not socialism, has prevailed. To put it more acceptably, the social form of the state and society is being destroyed, and everyone supports the new liberal form of capitalism which allows greed to GUSH and completely destroy human creation-economy as a whole, and the environment and nature of man himself.

Let me briefly address the liberation of Seselj by the Hague Tribunal. Even before the sentencing, I knew that he would be released. When Merkel said it was inevitable that a new war would take place in the Balkans, I was the only one who understood what that woman was talking about, and therefore his release was completely logical. If you do not understand what I am talking about, I will give you that mental picture in one word;

General Gotovina's liberation - the wrath of the Serbs grows.
Seselj's liberation - the wrath of Croats grows.

Programming our brain to hate has started here. There is no better recipe if you want to ignite the war – layering wrath on wrath will certainly cause hatred, war, devastation and death. Powerful and greedy programmed us and said: It is in our interest that you fight – we will get rid of the rest of you by making you fight against one another.

This is why I knew Seselj would be free. The powerful and greedy need him as a political pawn to achieve their goals.

Our nations have their heroes, idols, leaders who will lead our people – Gotovina and Seselj. They will lead us in a war for justice. What war is a righteous war? And why is only war an answer and a way to achieve justice? Our national heroes are very strong political pawns for a foul game of the US against EU and Russia. We should not allow a new war to start.

Now our nations have their heroes, IDOLS, LEADERS who will be at the forefront of our people - Gotovina and Seselj. And they will lead us into a war for justice. I really ask you, what kind of war is a just war, and why is war just a way to bring about "justice"? Our national heroes are very strong political pawns for America's corrupt game against the EU and Russia. And that is why Merkel directed a cry to the Balkans: "Do not let another war happen" But are we ready to listen to her or is the war going to be the only option for achieving justice?

I have to admit that we are not up to all these great power games, though we like to think we are. However, we end up being pawns in global war - we will only serve them so they can achieve their goals through us.

The sophisticated agenda and strategy of America implies an open provocation of Russia (teasing Putin's explosive nature). Seselj fits into their plan to escalate the crisis into war, and all of this will again look like we are all guilty of what happened to us and what will happen to us - and we all know very well what will happen.

To summarize, let us repeat the basics:

Political pawns that mean the points of world politics for Serbs or Croats.
Seselja was the one for the Serbian side and Gotovina for the Croatian side.

Trained Croatian and Serbian politicians will have rhetoric to justify the war.

We all wish our loved ones happiness and that God protects them, but He cannot preserve us unless we help Him and dispose of demons like greed and hatred.

In my opinion reincarnation is a logical form of soul evolution to become good, positive and full of love. We are all connected to some kind of energy field, Source, which gives us energy and strength when needed. Some believe this energy to be given by God. I speak to God when needed, when I want to talk to someone smarter myself, but I also think that there is some logical explanation for everything in nature, only our science is still at a primitive stage of development (compared to other civilizations in the Universe) and it cannot give all the answers to the questions that bother us.

The Earth's energy field is in the water. Isn't it interesting that all religions have some water-related ritual? Christians are baptized with water. Hindus bathe in the river of life. We may be left with just a bit of knowledge that our space visitors have tried to impart to us, but we do not understand them, so we have fun with that medium of life in a childlike way.

This energy field also contains stored files of the lives of our deceased. Water has memory and intelligence. Only a few people can reach this field of knowledge. Such was Tesla.

But there is a growing problem - everyone else who is contaminating it - poisoned by negative energy, energy of hatred and greed - is also connected to this energy field. As the planet itself is connected to this field and it begins to deteriorate - the negative energy of our minds spoils its internal natural balance, and therefore earthquakes and disturbances in the climate are increasing. Because negative energy (greed and hatred) is the energy of fire, not water (respect and love). That fire in our souls will be an obstacle to returning to the earth-water energy field, but there is a possibility that our soul energy will burn in the fire and never be reincarnated again.

If we all wanted to be included in that energy field only solely with positivity and positive thoughts - nature and human society would be reborn. When war reigns on the planet, no one is able to recover from that energy field.

The world-famous prophet Vanga - once said that in two to three thousand years we will only be in an energetic form and that there will be no Evil. It will be destroyed. To this day evil is the only source of true happiness (money-greed) and fun (hate-violence). Our values are completely perverted.

In my favorite HRT show “On the Edge of Science”, they talked about soul levitations. People who were on the verge of death, is in clinical death, temporarily had out of body experiences and saw doctors struggling to revive their bodies.

I also have my own personal experience, which I remembered from my earliest childhood, whenever I was on the verge of sleeping, my soul was leaving my body. I was above the house, I saw everything from the above. As my soul levitated, hovering, I was afraid to move on not to escape too far from my body to disappear completely. Around the age of 15 it stopped. The fear of life had nailed my spiritual form to my physical form.

Matter is nothing but a different form of energy, having a different frequency of energy. Because of its longer frequency it has become matter and not just pure energy. Both chemists and physicists have discovered that atoms of energy and matter have the same elements; electrons, protons and more. They only differ in how they flicker.

At school, this concept of resonance was by no means clear to me, and Nikola Tesla himself often referred to this term in his speeches. My utterly simplistic notion of resonance is: when two systems reach the same frequency. It means when the soul as only one of the forms of energy systems has the same resonance (when they achieve the same frequency-oscillation of electrons as the energy of matter) we can live longer, even achieve immortality.

So matter is only the energy of a different frequency. If the energy of one’s thoughts is negative one destroys the energy of the body. One is not in resonance with the frequency of the matter you are in, and the body does not accept negativity because the negativity destroys. That is why Vanga is right. Evil within us cannot win because it cannot preserve the matter we need for physical life.

Therefore, we cannot attain immortality while our negative thoughts (hatred and greed) in the soul constantly destroy the soul (fire) and matter in which we are. We have no resonance (uniform vibration of electrons) with that matter - the absolute and complete alignment of the frequencies of the soul and body.

And because of all the above, we are doomed to constant dying and birth - reincarnation.

When the evolution of our souls goes through all stages:

- reincarnation
- telepathy
- kinetic abilities

In this third phase, when it is absolutely purified from all the negative elements of the character of the soul (hatred, greed, selfishness, envy, etc.), because of its kinetic ability, it will be able to create such a resonance with the energies of our planet to create for itself a new matter ie body.

Therefore, I repeat, certain political and religious symbols will determine our behavior that is programmed to destroy rather than create. We respond to these symbols in a certain way, in accordance with the situation we are in. We react as specifically-programmed creatures when we feel threatened - we respond with violence.

The energy of diversity by faith, nation, race, gender are the energies of conflict not equality. They lead to the need for separation rather than for union. I believe that all these religious myths should serve man gradually, part by part, preparing him for that major thing - immortality.

For now, only a fraction of the truth is available to us, and that should not worry us and be overly annoying - it can only be for our own good. We need time to mature and, as the Eastern religions say, become an intelligent being of a higher degree of energy. And once again I warn that we can only achieve this by following the path of good, and not to strive for feelings of hatred, greed, selfishness, envy, arrogance, vanity etc.

But let us return to the third phase of the collapse of the economy and also repeat the first two;

1 - the crisis arises because suddenly, money is unnecessarily withdrawn from the economy for the games in the stock market.

2 – recession - gradually withdrawing the remaining money from the economy, production is slowly being shut down

3 – depression - no more money left. Food production ceases. Famine and chaos breaks out. Great hatred is arising and the culprit is sought. Politicians try - with the help of journalists and the military - to "find the right solution or culprits" for the bloodthirsty voters. While in peace politicians try to allocate resources, in chaos they distribute life and death.

When the third phase of the economy collapses, you will have to ask God to be close to the LOBBY - those who have been given the right to decide who will live and who will die.

I turn now to another topic - the mechanisms for degradation-declining morality in society.

As the crisis develops the morale declines in society. People increasingly choose hatred instead of love in relation to other members of the human race. And to understand why we behave like this, you need to know something about the EVOLUTION OF PSYCHOLOGY (AWARENESS) of man;

- instincts first developed in the consciousness of living beings - stage of lizards
- emotions and the beginnings of intelligence (gaining knowledge and life experience) – as in mammals and primates, including birds; developed because of the beginnings of social life (packs)
- abstractions (imagining and inventing things in consciousness, introducing something not present in the real world into consciousness); thus, spoken word was created, then letters and numbers that were a further step in abstraction-insertion; signs were generally needed to make words visible and easier to remember and learn; further abstraction was to artificially provoke emotions, to artificially achieve this state or pure act of emotions; by autosuggestion you achieve to really love a person, on the other hand you lie to yourself and others which in the end ends up not knowing if you have real feelings or not (lie becomes an abstraction in your consciousness by which you want to avoid the truth and/or real feelings); it is a development of consciousness that only humans are capable of. After lies, hatred is the greatest pillar of abstraction in human consciousness. We know that animals kill only for hunger. Killing for pleasure and/or hatred is a human innovation. A further abstraction of our consciousness and feelings is greed. Hatred and greed are absolutely incomprehensible to animals, but they are very well recognized and felt in us.

Birds, mammals and primates (monkeys) had developed emotions and a primitive form of intelligence before we did, and what drives them to become gentle and obedient servants is our ability to abstract at any time into our consciousness - to give tenderness, closeness and attention - these are the elements of showing love.

But in addition to the primate emotions, we still have a part of the lizard's brain, which is why we have physical twitches and primal urges for survival inherited from lizards. When we are in danger we seek to attack a potential enemy to get out of trouble. When chaos and all those lizard urges emerge, politicians have to channel all of the raw and destroying energy.

It is solely up to us whether energy of love or energy of hate will prevail. Now is the time to choose our future. It is time not to succumb to the lizard's instincts (instinct of self-preservation), and to use our intelligence and fight for the noble emotions, tenderness and closeness that is nurtured by mammals, birds and primates (the energy of love, and consequently the joy of life).

As second-class citizens, women secretly have been preferring and developing emotions. They have influenced the evolution of human psychology-consciousness by developing emotions, emotions and intelligence, and men constantly returned the evolution of human consciousness to lizards, which is why men mostly like and enjoy war video games.

Men respond to image and movement, and women prefer emotions and emotion, and there is their constant need for intellectual challenges. Therefore, throughout history, they have maintained this balance in the psychological evolution of man. At birth a child has the same ability to choose capacity - from a mother capacity for emotion and intelligence, and from father ability for raw physical aggression and self-preservation-survival. Which abilities will prevail through the upbringing of a male or female child depends solely on the social environment.

The evolution of the woman, and above all the constant slapping and beating, have taught the woman that men need to feel that they are smarter.

Women and men behave differently because of the imposed social conventions in which they live (the unwritten rules of society). The choice of activities depends largely on the parent's upbringing and the behavior of the society in which they live. The reasons why the Western world (Europe and North America) is more economically and technologically developed than the rest of the world is because they have given greater freedom and equality to women.

So, in the economy, women's naturally evolved intelligence is activated, and their creative skills are at the disposal of society. That made Westerners twice as capable and efficient from the rest of the world.

China, Japan, India, the Arab world, women are driven aside and they can only make coffee for men at work or end up in the kitchen or bringing up children. In other words - lizards want to show what they know and primates have to move aside.

Just so you know female children in China are called "rice worms". In a country where until recently, many people survived daily only on a handful of rice, it was not comfortable to share that rice with a female child who would soon be someone else's servant.

In India, this tragedy is even greater, when in India a family has a female child, there is no greater tragedy. It is bad karma for them, not only to feed a future servant of others for free, but to hand her over to another you must give that family a dowry. It is not uncommon for a family to kill their daughter-in-law to get a new daughter-in-law and her dowry.

Due to the illegal use of ultrasound in China and India, significantly more boys were born than girls. When parents find out that they are expecting a girl they choose to have an abortion. There are many girl-free villages in India and in China due to the one-child policy significantly fewer girls are born. In a country where there will soon be a billion old people, there are not enough girls to start families and care for older members of the family.

Europe and the US have doubled their ability by integrating women into the economy, unlike any other where a man has been left solely to his lizard and bully-like abilities. Because they had no choice, they had to emulate us in economics and finance, and take over our technological solutions.

Unfortunately, even though women have achieved emancipation and greater freedom, the world and economy are still governed solely by men, and their lizard brain tells them that "the mind reigns over physical strength". So when the realm of the mind disappears, things must be resolved the old way, with fight – so that the power of the stronger outweighs the weaker.

To fully illustrate to you the character of a man, I will have to present you with some facts:

ANIMALS - NOBLE BEINGS

MAN – GREEDY BEINGS

What inevitably binds all human emotions is pure greed:

- love for a woman that actually is a greed for a good female for physical pleasure, that you can as well humiliate to make your physical pleasure greater
- love for the family - a nest in which one grows one's genetic material
- love for the nation, religion and race - actually a way of recognizing who can be a friend to us in times of crisis and who is the enemy, these are socially acceptable conventions - rules for recognizing familiarity in moments of chaos and trouble
- the love of money as the sole means of survival of species, nation, religion and family

One thing to know about animals, especially mammals - they look into our eyes and see the soul and know exactly how we feel at the moment. It has often happened to me that when I look into the eyes of a stray dog, I feel a stomach cramp that tells me how hungry he is. Therefore I do not like to look animals straight in the eyes. They seem to know they can ask me for mercy. That is what people ask of God in today's world.

So far the church has spread faith through alms. The greedy are telling people to wait for them to get rich first, and then they will give them the alms. But there are more poor people and the alms are scarce. And when war happens there will be no mercy nor alms.

I have heard the story that animals are afraid to look people in the eyes. In our eyes they see laden and tormented animals struggling with their constant greed, which is why we are stressed and radiate the urge for aggression and a need for violence for the sake of a pure survival. If it involves having hatred in your heart and soul, we are ready for that sacrifice. Therefore, animals cannot look us in the eye for long without fear, stress, tension in their souls.

We tend to be more primitive. The primitive lizard has prevailed - the urge to survive that moves us away from the possibility of reincarnation in humans.

Therefore, it is easy to conclude that the feelings of animals are noble, and ours are greedy. The man must always have some interest in order to allow himself feelings. This is how we are programmed by the society in which we are raised and in which we live.

If you think I'm wrong just ask yourself: "Have you ever seen this sense of greed in the eyes of an animal?"

Politicians need to start doing their job properly, and let us economists do our part, so the solution and success will be certain.

Our politicians, because of their ignorance, do not have courage to stand up for us, and therefore for themselves.

The tragedies that happen around us to sick children, to the powerless and the needy tell a lot of us. They talk about how prepared we are for human behavior and empathy. We just need someone to initiate and organize it. Our feelings tell us what kind of people we really are and because of these caring feelings that exist in us, I think there is hope, after all.

DO NOT RETALIATE ON THE POOR AND THE INNOCENT.

The poor are now not only being physically starved, but constantly being mentally harassed. What a misery our poor man is experiencing is clearly seen in the fact that hooligans at sports competitions have an increasing energy and need to express violence.

But if you consider these wars of economic powers through the currency market as only temporary and that everything will return to normal afterwards, you are in great misapprehension and have no idea what is really going on.

This consideration of human consciousness and the brain (the lizard-primate-human layer) leads me to another conclusion as to why aliens, or as I like to call them "little grays", have opted for biochemical artificial formation as a replacement for animal bodies, i.e. next to;

- 1 - Extending the life span
- 2 - controlling of telepathic exchange of thoughts
- 3 - control of lizard instincts

We need to know that to the trained and experienced eye of a gifted mentalist, a psychologist to whom in your subconscious twitches (twitches of the lizard brain in yourself) you convey your lies, hatred, disgust, fear, anger, thought or intent, and not to say how transparent you are when you want to disguise your habits and lifestyle.

The development of psychology, as well as of all sciences and technologies in their far more advanced intelligence and civilization, has led to the fact that nothing could be concealed from the telepathic thoughts of other people, nor from the behavior of their own bodies (the lizard instincts which are an integral part of our consciousness) that. Even though you control your thoughts, you cannot control the unconscious twitches of the body and face that give you away.

Therefore, to make society more bearable, they had to make bodies impersonal. It is in human nature, and also in the nature of our aliens (fallen angels, as my good friend calls them), to choose an easier a way to solve our problems, is to lie instead of truth, and therefore hate instead of love.

We say that we are ready for the challenges of life, but not for the most difficult ones, which is to change for the better, to become better people. It is much easier to have more fun when we do what we should not, and for that fun we use lies that become uncomfortable when seen in our thoughts or body language.

Therefore, hatred will again be the solution to our economic collapse, and after the war, just like our ancestors so far, we will conclude that all this destruction, the shedding of blood and the destruction of everything we have created and witnessed really doesn't make any sense. But we will not learn until we get burned.

lal around us are lies and deceptions, but at least let us not all become the lies and deceit that our intellectually advanced aliens have become, or even worse not completely destroy ourselves, because God sees no other solution.

At the beginning of my youth, seeking my answers in religion, I read a great thing. I think that Dalai Lama said it. In order to be on the right track, we have to obey three laws or rules:

1. Respect yourself
2. Respect the other
3. Take responsibility for your actions

By living by the principle of Dail Lama one sets one's behavior and the evolution of one's soul in the right direction.

Present form of spiritual life, of our primitive civilization (marked by warfare), is but an introduction for the superior modes of soul development-evolution.

I was impressed by these three rules and decided that these would be the guidelines of my behavior. Today I know I was on the right track. Since I'm interested in our Universe, and I am sure we are not the only ones in it, I found an article on the internet about four alien species reportedly published by Russians about their research. Americans are still hiding their information.

I was very interested in those who were smaller than us, gray-haired, black-eyed, and they said they were more afraid of death than us earthlings. And those are the ones that visit us the most. This is my conclusion. At first everything sounded like a good joke, but it is not as I initially thought. With their advanced technology, they have created biological and chemical bodies into which they put "plasticized" brains. You have extended their lives for several hundred and maybe even a thousand years.

They did this not only because they lived longer, but also because of the evolution of their bodies. They also experienced a powerful evolution of the energy of consciousness, which became so powerful that they could communicate through thoughts. That's where the problem arose.

We have demons in our minds: greed, envy, selfishness, hatred, we respect no one and nothing but money. And that was their problem as well, they just couldn't stand each other.

They stopped the evolution of their soul. They have become "fallen angels". They have created a hell to live in.

What do I mean by the evolution of the soul? Here are some of the conclusions I have drawn based on the above knowledge of "little grays".

The evolution of the soul, just like the evolution of matter (of which we are the most perfect form), has its sequence: in this I note that intelligence can be a trap that the "little grays" have fallen. Westerners have scientific answers for matter, and far better answers for the spiritual are found in Eastern religions, but only partially.

1. Respect Yourself - REINCARNATION

When people start remembering earlier lives:

- 1- They will have to reconcile with some acts or misdeeds committed in previous lives, the wicked with their goodness, and the good with their misdeeds;
- 2- embrace all the life forms they have had - gender, racial, national, religious, ideological, philosophical or any other differences that we must learn to tolerate in our present lives,
- 3- and they must forgive themselves and put love in their soul to move on to the next stage of the soul's evolution.

That's what Christ (love and forgiveness) was saying, though he didn't really know what he was talking about.

I think the Islam is right in saying that he was just one of the messengers who brought just a part of the truth. Why are MPs allowed to tell only part of the truth? Because of our protection against demons. Because if demons reach the final stage of soul evolution - they will destroy the universe, that is, there will be a new "big bang" - so, you heard right, it was not a universe created out of nothing, but from a previous universe destroyed by demons, because all powers were acquired.

The difference between demons and angels is that demons love fun in the form of blood, violence, death, destruction - and since they have no love in their soul, it is empty and this eventually causes boredom (without any positive emotions in the soul). If they do not find a new adversary, (they lack imagination and creativity), because of self-hatred and great boredom they destroy themselves. They cannot do it unless they destroy Universum itself.

Why is there reincarnation into animals? It is from that perspective of the world that we learn how it is when men are arrogant and insatiable. And on the other hand, as an animal, you can feel the human hunger on your skin. Just look into the eyes of any animal - they look at us as gods, who have no mercy. The animals ask us for love, attention, mercy and compassion.

2. Respect the other – TELEPATHY

It is at this stage of the evolution of the soul that those previously mentioned "little grays" have entered. As they could hear each other's thoughts, there was a clash of "demons" and "angels." Some loved their evil side, which they accepted in reincarnation, others sought to respect others and everything that is positive.

This is where the Eastern philosophy of ying and yang and the philosophy of respect came to light. Those who opted for good put constant pressure on the "demons". Their resentment is the same as ours towards perverse deeds of sick minds (pedophiles, rapists, murderers). So "angels" could not tolerate corrupt thoughts full of negative emotions and perverted-debauched memories of the pleasures that those wicked pursued.

Psychopaths should not be tolerated and respected because they enjoy the suffering of another person's soul – that is why we call them demons. They do not respect the man and his life. The demon was born out of a sick mind, because that soul had been in such a life experience of one of its previous lives.

The basic rule of Univesum is the respect of free will. If you do not obey the free will of man you commit the worst SIN. Sins are not what our churches have on their list of sins, by which they abuse us. If you do evil to another person by your free will, you abuse your free will, and especially if you deprive him of his right to freedom, you are committing that SIN. So demons are sinful because they do not respect free will of a man. Being a psychopath is about choosing your own will.

If we allow the psychopath to choose, by his own free will, to be evil - such a soul must be "destroyed". Angels cannot do that, because destruction is the opposite of their creativity. Demons have to change at this stage by their will. Therefore telepathy is used to purify the soul-consciousness and conscience of the "demon." As long as there are demonic thoughts in a person, they need to be "purged". Our religions use the term "purgatory", maybe this is a phase that is interesting.

If we allow evil to triumph in the souls of humans on our planet, we are all doomed to hell - just like those "little gray" ones.

The decision must be made at the reincarnation stage. At this stage one has to do it for others and out of respect for others. Just as we command our consciousness today to forget what we do not want to remember. During our lives we keep nice memories and forget the bad once and with that decision we enter our next life.

At this stage consciousness gains kinetic power - which means that you can do everything you can with your hands, but far more and far more powerful.

3. Take responsibility for your actions - KINETIC POWER OF AWARENESS

When the evolution of consciousness, and therefore of the soul, comes to this stage, you will understand why it is important that now, while we are pure animal form, we must learn to be responsible for our actions. A person must take responsibility for his actions and seek to find a way to change and rectify the damage done.

If you have learned to respect and care for life in one of your reincarnated lives, and to respect your own and others' physical and mental anguish, then you are welcome at this stage of the evolution of the soul and consciousness. At this stage consciousness gains kinetic power - which means that you can do everything with your hands, but far more and far more powerful.

With this, if you were born again with the body of a man, you have the energy or force to cruelly destroy the material, but you can only use it to protect. And if you were born into the body of a woman then you have the opportunity to be the creator of the material. Why is it this way? For the simple reason that the body of a woman is equipped naturally to create life (she can use that information from her body for her kinetic creativity-creation).

Due to the exclusively violent way of developing human civilization and our society, nature in the male body has created the need to strengthen the raw physical energy - because it is he who has had to protect the lives of those he loves during war time. That is why men in this final stage of consciousness development have only the kinetic energy of the force that manipulates the material, and the woman creates the material.

Men will control energy, and women matter.

The creator of the material can be a woman, not a man, because nature has equipped her for this. Now you understand what Universum would be like if demons were to slip into this stage of consciousness development.

The evolution of consciousness must not end with the evolution of demonic souls, because a war would last until the destruction of angels. When they lose that war demons destroy the Universe, because without war they do not see the meaning of their existence. They feel the passion of life and the pleasure of fun only as they are busy with war and destruction.

Now you are wondering who are these "messengers" who speak "godly" or any truth. Maybe these bits of truth came to them from beings just like us, but with the difference that they were only able to evolve their souls into angels. They are located in one of the parallel Universums and seek to help us save our Universum from being destroyed again. I ask you if it ever happened to you in your life that you had a feeling it had already happened. Maybe because it happened in another parallel world because you are exactly that "messenger", and maybe it happened just in this universe, because history had to repeat itself.

As you can see in our present, animal form of life, it is merely a foreplay for the continued evolution of the soul, the decisions we now make and the life experiences we gain will determine what we will be - demons or angels.

The word Universe has a derivative universality, which means that by the laws of nature it transitions from one form to another (evolves). As in nature matter and energy have the ability to move from one form to another to evolve materially, so does the soul move from one life to another to evolve and eventually become universal - the creation of all forms of nature.

This is the story of my life, my religious belief. And it arose out of rebellion towards the evil I heard about at the beginning of my life. From this rebellion, I decided that I had my own original beliefs. If I'm right, we're not going to finish well, and it seems like our story is just a repetition of what has already happened on planets that have evolved rapidly both scientifically and industrially.

Russians claim that there is a fourth group of aliens that look like "gods" and look very much like us. It means that we are really created in the "image" of God. Or, like them, nature has created us.

The "gods" were also visited by the "little gray beings" and asked for help to become like them, but you realize that they can only be "servants of God" and nothing more, because they have interrupted the natural sequence of the evolution of their consciousness and soul. These "gods" are probably "angels" who have managed to overcome their "demons".

The other two groups of aliens are:

- "bosses" look just like "little gray beings", but they are bigger and more intelligent, scientifically and industrially most advanced in the Universe and therefore make trade with everyone
- "reptiles" look like reptiles because of their physical evolution, though they walk upright like humans, but they did not evolve from monkeys but from reptiles, they are belligerent and serve as "soldiers"

The "little gray" aliens were buried in Phase 2 (telepathy), the "reptiles" remained on the animal stage with underdeveloped intelligence. Due to the rapid development of intelligence, the "masters" neglected these contents of consciousness and soul in Phase 1 (reincarnation), decided to ignore them, freeze them in this state and allow themselves to prolong their physical existence. The "little grays" have probably taken this technology to extend their physical lives and in turn become their servants.

Watching another of HRT's shows, "On the Edge of Science: Circles in the Grain," there was a picture of an alien with a spaceship imprinted on the field. With that picture, they tried to make us know that they exist and what they look like. The alien looked like this: gray with a big head and a small jaw. Man already has a much larger head than a monkey. It is natural for a more advanced civilization to have bigger brains. Their jaws are smaller because they have fewer teeth as a result of more industrial food processing.

When I watched a documentary on Argentina's economy it became clear to me why they are grey. They have overcome their economic crisis with the enormous production of soybeans, which they produce using huge amounts of pesticides and other artificial substances. They showed a picture of a boy whose back was GRAY. GMO foods and the production of foods using various chemicals will cause us to turn gray.

What this tells us is that we not only distort the nature we live from - but we work very hard to distort spiritually and physically.

That we still don't remember our past life because we have clouded our minds with the greed for money and hate led by religious affiliation.

Our spiritual world is primitive because we feel painful boredom if we do not entertain violence (in video games, movies and series).

And remember, a primitive soul (full of greed, hatred, envy ...) reincarnates into an animal, and a soul full of positivity (love, humanity ...) into man.

In Christian religions I do not like the fact that "God loves you and forgives you all, and He will solve everything for you". In reincarnated religions, you are required to develop yourself morally and intellectually throughout your life - to grow spiritually only on your own strength.

We can decide to continue as we are, "bad and irresponsible children". Then for a very long time we will need a "good daddy", say for maybe another 2000 years. But there is a problem that we could destroy ourselves and thus end the story with this planet and their souls on this planet forever. That's why I say: it is enough with stupid crises.

I have nothing against the Church, but against people who do not respect the positive emotions that the Churches give to their dogmas. No matter what their stories are, they only carry a fraction of the truth. But if they help you become a good person who respects himself and others, responsible for his actions, with love in his soul, then for all of us there is a chance to end up somewhere after our present lives.

COGNITION DISABLES STUPIDITY

We live in an age where all DREAMS of humans are turned into disgrace by our modern civilization.

We are about to destroy our civilization ourselves - our laziness and inhumanity. In fact the form of civilization we are now creating will lead us to the brink, when we become worse than the beast - killing each other so that only those whom we consider deserving will survive.

Laziness has destroyed Socialism, and INHUMANITY will destroy Capitalism. We in the countries of the Balkans have also created aphorisms; in Socialism we used to say "They can't pay me as little as I can work", now, in Capitalism, that sentence has changed and reads "They can't pay me as much as I can work". In socialism there were a few who really worked hard in the workplace. Now, in Capitalism, we work more and more, for less and less money. In the past profitability did not matter because the state covered, through its levies, companies with operating losses. Now, in order to be more profitable, Capital wants to reduce the costs of workers' salaries and reduce benefits to the State, because it stifles profitability. As a result, the standard drops and social concern for people disappears.

Older people say that in Socialism, people were more satisfied and social, now more and more alienated and sick, especially psychologically because of all sorts of stress, which is why the pharmaceutical industry earns the most profit on stress-chemistry.

In today's society - poverty is a disgrace. It is thought that poor people are guilty of their own destiny, because they are incompetent and lazy, so they are marginalized, thrown to the fringes of our civilized society, to be ultimately exterminated. This is done with all the people and all the races. It has become a normal thing for us, that black people in Africa are starving and sick. Why would we feed them when there are too many of them to feed themselves on their own land. We forget that the droughts that occur there are precisely the product of our civilization.

Civilization is not only the spiritual development of the human community. Society is developing in technical and technological terms as well. Civilization is the development of society in both science and humanity, and civilization is only the development of humanity in us. Humanity is very distorted by the economic and technological advances that make people a pawn in the process of making Capital and profit. How dangerous this inhumanity of the capitalist economic system is, I will explain below.

All of what I am going to present to you now is based largely on what was aired on HRT's "On the Edge of Science," and partly on what I found in some texts and online.

Recently I read a book "The Only Planet of Choice" - where through human media they communicated with a person who called himself TOM, and he is part of a council of nine wise men. What matters to me from all this is that from the very beginning of the human race, we are actually psychologically and genetically manipulated by alien advanced civilizations.

The Old Testament itself, the holy book of the Bible, is full of stories about Yahweh coming from light and going with light. By giving us laws about how we should behave and think. First, we were under the impression that more than one God was deciding on our destiny, after that there was only one God, now they offer us a theory of how to act in order for us to become gods ourselves.

In the book I mentioned, about the nine wise men who claim that the fate of the entire universe depends on the evolution of the soul of humans on Earth only on earth do people have a right to choose, free will, which has completely disappeared on other planets. What they do not tell us is the real truth, that their society is strictly hierarchical, a technocracy, in which there is no spontaneity, but only an obligation to work on their knowledge. Food production technology has completely distorted their bodies, which have turned gray due to chemicals in food production.

THE BEING LIGHTS have achieved a complete spiritual development, a complete mental evolution, while the latter, due to their excessive preoccupation with the material, are trapped in their "deformed physical shells". The difference between the former and the latter is that they are the first to complete all three stages of evolution - reincarnation, telepathy, and kinetic abilities of the mind.

The book concludes that we are the second planting of the "human race" on Planet Earth. The first were the inhabitants of ancient Atlantis. They were much more technologically advanced than we were, they knew they were getting energy from water by extracting helium. They existed from 34,000 to 11,000 BC. Which means that their civilization has evolved for 23,000 years. And they made a "fatal mistake", society and their bodies, with super-developed technology, deformed the same as their "creators", so they had to be destroyed.

Before the first "planting of humans", there were dinosaurs on the planet, which nature had made imperfect. Unless the dinosaurs are killed as cubs by dinosaur predators, or die from an infection, they continue to grow and flourish to unprecedented sizes because they have not developed the gene of aging and natural extinction. The aliens have therefore destroyed them and we now use them as oil. The reason why we have it in large quantities is because the people of Atlantis, did not need fuel and gas as a source of energy.

After the second extermination, the Atlanteans, the third extermination was the Neanderthals. They are the real human evolution of this planet because they most closely resemble the apes on this planet. But because of a lack of spiritual and technological development, they existed as a community on planet earth for only 100,000 years, and were subsequently exterminated because of the necessary space for "second planting of people."

Modern humans vary in race, with only slight physical differences, eyes, head, nose, body structure and similar details. At the same time, black people were not initially black; they became black because of the climate in which they lived. This is evident in the fact that blacks who immigrated to America, African-Americans, become significantly whiter than their counterparts in Africa. Races are actually different types of aliens, who also wanted to provide the genetic basis for consciousness development.

What we need to know about the Universe and aliens is that there are two main groups; beings of light and beings of darkness or so-called Fallen Angels. Our races of people are descended from different kinds of "fallen".

Beings of Light achieved their spiritual advances, complete spiritual evolution. The others were too concentrated on the material and became trapped in their own physical shells. The difference between these two groups is in the fact that the first group had finished entire three levels of evolution – reinkarnation, telepathy and kinetic abilities of mind.

When the "FALLING ANGELS" asked THE BEINGS OF LIGHT "to help them change and with the help of science, to solve this problem, they were told that it was impossible and that they could only be" THEIR SERVANTS ". That made these civilizations with TECHNOCRACY very angry and they decided on a project called "Earth - the only planet of choice", for us it should be called "Earth - the only planet without choice".

Now these nine wise men are telling us untruths, as they are so far in our history, that we are the only ones who have free will, and because of this, on the basis of our spiritual development, we can be Saviors of the entire universe — true Gods.

You have all heard about the abductions of humans allegedly perpetrated by aliens, they not only correct us and combine us physically, but are desperate to become advanced and superior beings in a spiritual sense. And they follow this process closely, and they intend to use their science of psychology and chemistry, to give us, as experimental guinea pigs, an answer that roubles them; how the superior - the divine soul - is formed.

Therefore, I am writing this second book, not to help them, it will only be a side effect but that we are not the second human civilization of this "lab" called Earth, which will have to be destroyed because they have again "strayed from the right path of salvation." started again through technocracy, enjoying material things, and being spiritually alienated-disappearing.

Since its inception, our society has been based on the rule of the stronger. Poorer nations are being destroyed, women are, in fact, "free supplies for home, children and sex," and more recently, women have been making money for men. Women and children also become sex toys physically and mentally abused by men, for the sake of greater sexual pleasure.

Due to more life problems, we increasingly doubt God's help and protection. What we should know, and what aliens are trying to instill in us as a new religious truth, is that all this happens to us because of our KARMA. KARMA is really just our positive (through knowledge) or negative (through desire) action.

What we should strive for is TRUTH-EASY-LOVE. We see life as a very complicated process, for one simple reason, because of ignorance we do not have the truth, so we view all things as very complicated or inadvertently complicate them, and therefore squeeze love out because we think it makes us look like fools.

Belief in GOD or Deity is the obedience-humility of ignorance before the knowledge of the mysterious Universe.

Because our knowledge is insignificant, one has to fight his fears and primitivism with hard work and prayer (or meditation), because it was the only way to subdue his thoughts, in which he was terribly burdened by feelings, passions and longings.

And when a person does not work, pray, or meditate, he is a demanding, dissatisfied, spoiled child, who can never get enough of attention and gifts.

Patience is the most important virtue. It is necessary to transcend desire and longing, in order to bring the world into a state of peace and balance - harmony of the spiritual and the physical, and thus the balance with the energy of nature is being achieved.

All religions of the world agree that GOD is actually LOVE, ie it is a positive energy, a creative essence (which is the essence, the main content of all).

We are insolent before God, we beg for attention, we pray for gifts and help, but when we put the word LOVE before us, then we are ashamed to be selfish, but we do not want to be humble before it. This is why the word God dominates and has replaced the word Love.

Love is a female entity (essence) and is considered weak, and God is male and means authority-power.

Love is not something we have to beg to be a part of. It is a part of our soul that we create within ourselves. The soul is the bearer of the spirit, and our spirit is more beautiful if the bearer is richer - so we enrich our soul with all the beautiful - love, humanity, unselfishness, happiness, joy and then our mind ie the energy of our brain will be positive and the body healthy, strong and long lasting. Doctors themselves recognize that cancer is a consequence, not a cause. Excessive accumulation of stress causes the body to deform itself. Even cow madness appeared because of the inhumane farming conditions of farm animals. Now there is a tendency to put animals bred for food in as normal and as natural environment as possible.

When asked; ARE WE CIVILIZED? One might answer with the questions - have we worked on ourselves, on values in our consciousness? Of course we have not. Because of more work, manipulation through the media - our soul has become the trash can of our civilization. Our SPIRIT is frightened, suffocated, annoyed, disappointed, dissatisfied and our mind is full of negative electromagnetic energy destroying the body.

Our Soul does not contain those spiritual values necessary for our SPIRIT to be HOLY - full of light and crystal clear. Our SPIRIT is BLACK and full of longing for the material to get at least a fleeting joy of life.

The Soul is the emotions on which our Consciousness develops and swims - the SPIRIT that can make our Mind SICK or HEALTHY-HAPPY, therefore it must be free from heavy emotions and thoughts.

Because of the primitiveness in the development of our society, we had to resort to repeating prayers (based on our Western religious dogmas) or mantras recommended by Eastern religions. Western religions introduce prayer even as a punishment for the sins they have put on their list. Basic moral norms for a child's brain must exist, but exaggeration is necessary because of the interests of church institutions, not the moral suitability of believers.

Why don't people of all religions call God by their real name - LOVE ?! Because love is not respected and it is humiliated every step of the way, and the term God instills a sense of humility and respect because they believe that in return they will be given the fulfillment of their longing.

The "will of God" is actually the use of our free will when choosing love, not greed, hatred, selfishness - which always lead us to fear, sadness, lies and envy.

When the word LOVE enters our consciousness as a supernatural and most powerful energy, we will be inspired by extraordinary consciousness. By demanding God's attention, we are victims of our ego and thus all the cravings that are the cause of our illusions and our suffering, and ultimately we will become "FALLING ANGELS".

We are just like our "creators" trying to solve their spiritual evolution through us, using the method of scientific observation on guinea pigs. If we continue like this, "Noah's Ark" will reappear, take the necessary genetic materials, and again "cancel" us and perform "third planting".

Noah's Ark is actually a symbol for collecting the genetic material of all living creatures that have evolved on planet Earth, and it is not the taking of all pairs of animal species, real animals, only their genetic material (females and males) of each animal species is sufficient to their spaceship (the Alien Arc). The stories of Adam and Eve, and Noah's ark are stories for children, children of this planet who refuse to grow up, still need the Father of God and his guidance. This fallen "Fallen Angels" will no longer provide us, because as a "second planting" we have existed for 13,000 years, Atlantis has existed for 23,000 years, but we have made rapid, exponential advances in science over the last 200 years, and are degrading as a society, we are distorting, and we have made man as an individual in this society "retarded in spiritual development" - the child's mentality remains. Our creators are guilty of this. They have programmed us to live only up to 100 years, hoping that the faster change of physical generations will lead to faster development of reincarnation, telepathy and kinetic thought (strengthening the mind's power to control matter and energy). But because of its short existence, we gain insufficient knowledge to manage ourselves. They did this because they gave the inhabitants of ancient Atlantis a longer lifespan of several hundred years, and immediately gave them all the knowledge they needed about technology. Because of this, they tried a different, smaller life span with us and forbade us to take the forbidden fruit from the Garden of Eden - the children's story of Adam and Eve and the forbidden fruit - the apple of knowledge. This is why we are child-rearing children and workers who create the conditions for our lives and pleasures, without the right spirit.

OUR WORLD has become dark, sick, ignorant and insensitive to other human beings, to nature and the planet it is on.

We seek GOD for EGO, not LOVE for the SOUL. We feel lonely in a difficult earthly life, so we will still need the Churches for comfort and protection from trouble - and the Church is really just a museum of unfulfilled desires.

EGO is when we attach great importance to ourselves and our opinion - which is actually the main reason for the existence of ILLUSIONS manifested in our longing, greed and selfishness. That is why we attach importance to things that have no real value to our spiritual peace and to our beauty of a sentient soul - cell phones, limousines, should be toys that children are happy about. They have not yet acquired all the necessary awareness and knowledge of life. But when we grow up, we do not overcome that, we continue to be children, looking for more and more toys - and this is actually our illusion of happiness, our longing to be filled, and we are a big hole that we fall into and become "fallen angels" - just like those who "planted us" " on this planet. Mistakes are repeated all over again, which is why civilizations in the Universe are upset that they cannot find a solution to their inevitable destiny - the SPIRITUAL DESTRUCTION OF ALL THE CIVILIZATIONS OF THE UNIVERSE. They are actually asking us to save them, because they are "fallen angels".

Even the "BEINGS OF AWARENESS", who live for several millions of years, lose their spiritual energy, because they are not resistant to the disease called selfishness. GOD = LOVE - EGO.

The development of technology should free us from work, automation, computers and robotics should replace physical work, and reduce mind's work. So that we have more time to work on ourselves and our relationships. Cultivating quality consciousness of a man (soul-spirit-mind) is what our "creators" ask us to do, not that we act like irresponsible children, who only care about toys and inventing any kind of games to experience "primitive" pleasures. We shut our consciousness in a box, look at it as a box, fill it as a box, stimulate it to work and think as an object, not a subject.

The rich are full of selfishness, which is why they are arrogant. They think they know everything based on the fact that they have acquired wealth. For them the acquisition of wealth is a sign of intelligence and superiority. They are actually the embodiment of their illusion called LOVE, it is a style and a way of surviving.

In India, avatars or Babaji, reincarnations of the gods, often appear throughout history. They are the embodiment of God's truth and God's love for humans. When such a charismatic person appears in some physical human incarnation, then the gathering of people around that person occurs. The people ask him to perform the role of spiritual leader and teacher. Unlike a Western civilization that acknowledges the appearance of its prophets in only one life cycle. Because of this, it is likely that our God Jesus appeared in reincarnations several times, but was mocked by both the Church and the people, and more recently imprisoned in hospitals. The irony is that the Catholic Church acknowledges the appearance of the image of the Virgin Mary, from whom we seek mediation with Christ. Christ could be crucified spiritually several times only because the Church in the banned reincarnation from its Church dogmas in the 6th century.

The appearance of Mary and her giving new messages to believers is a new alien manipulation, which can only be done through children - because they are only naive enough to believe in everything.

The rich pay three professionals to take care of their interests:

- 1 / Accountants guarding their Capital
- 2 / Lawyers who protect them from the Law
- 3 / Psychologists who protect them from themselves

The psychiatrists are "taking care of the poor", testing different chemicals on their physical shell, and their spiritual condition is not important at all, because these professionals do not have the time or are paid enough to waste it on this. These tests will refine chemical substances that can later control the consciousness of the poor masses. People would become "silly happy" - they would feel content with life even though there would be no emotional or material reason for it.

This way, politicians would become unnecessary, as chemistry would curb and control the dissatisfaction of the masses.

Every "normal" person is a double personality. One side of his personality is the egoist – he would like everything to be his way. He loves to rule. The other side is love, which to show means weakness and vulnerability. For most people, egoism prevails, those who let love guide them through life fall into the hands of psychiatrists who fill them with CHEMICALS - which inhibit the body but do not stop the burden of THOUGHT AND EMOTION.

This world is driven solely by the love of Money - and this is called greed. That is why our spiritual world is primitive and we feel painful boredom if we do not have fun with violence. Video games, movies and series are plagued with violence that allows us to meet that need.

The levels of development of the soul, and thus of society, are as follows;

- 1 / PHYSICAL - craving for food, drink, sex, money
- 2 / EMOTIONAL - fear, love, hatred, greed, envy, vanity
- 3 / INTELLECTUAL - Knowledge and seeking the answers
- 4 / MORAL - truth, honesty, honor and respect
- 5 / CREATIVE - creativity and imagination versus boredom, destruction and self-destruction

According to this stage of development, we measure and see at what level of humanity we are, and this can be seen through our mercy. According to the IMF chief, only 0.7% of the world's wealth should be allocated to 70% of the world, which is poor and hungry.

Just for your information and familiarity with the Todoric Agrokor case. Todoric extended his private empire to Slovenia, Serbia and BiH with foreign money (foreign banks). And in the end, the corporation was left with enormous debt. His private villas, the state has no one to sell to in Croatia, but only to foreigners which means that the foreign bosses will live right next door to us.

V. INSTEAD OF CONCLUSION

I would conclude, in the end, that the basic problem of man, and therefore of society as a whole, is how to control greed.

WE HAVE REPLACED THE NEED FOR LOVE FOR THE NEED OF MONEY.

We are driven by the desire for money, which is why we are driven by hatred defined by religious affiliation.

The 16th-century French philosopher Francois Olivier (1493-1560) said: "The state approaches its ruin when the weak are punished and the rich criminals receive forgiveness for their gold."

The creation of Money should go according to the needs of the Economy, and the Economy should create according to the needs of the Society.

My suggestion for a "COMPLETE DEBT WRITE OFF" of all countries, through the WEO Global Organization, is really just a new level of evolution of the modern economy - whose need for money can no longer be met only by the primary issues of individual countries' money, but now there is a need for additional issues of Money - WEM Global Issue of Global Money - A GLOBAL MONETARY SYSTEM, which coexists with the national one.

Civilization aspires to COLLECTIVISM, which gives as much EQUALITY in the fulfillment of needs, and not in HIERARCHY as the creation of social classes and the worship of the elite (financial or ecclesiastical). A STRONG hierarchy is needed in primitive societies.

The hierarchy was needed because knowledge was only available to the privileged wealthy elite. The more knowledge was made available to the lower classes of society, the less the social differences are visible and they ultimately disappeared, absolute democracy - the rule of the people.

We need to give sick, greedy people to play with numbers in front of screens (financial virtual world), and in real life, in the future, everyone will have equal opportunities and equal wealth, which will free the mind from fear and shame, without envy, vanity and arrogance that they act and set people apart.

We cannot allow the POLITICAL bureaucracy to be replaced by TECHNOCRACY (the rule of knowledge), if we allow it, such a strong hierarchy will completely destroy the spirit of man – humanity. We will have elites - political, financial and scientific, who will fight each other for dominance over MONEY, and small people will increasingly be degraded and thrown into the margins of society, with that margin becoming wider and larger.

The masters must know that we cannot change them. They must do it themselves.

Capitalism without the threats of socialism impoverishes the broader classes of people. While socialism was a threat, Capitalism sought to enrich the broader sections of society. It is the other way around today because it cannot control its greed itself and therefore will become more cruel; this is precisely because solid education becomes more inaccessible to the members of society, followed by unavailability of health care, low pensions and ultimately increasing hunger.

It is very important that we control the greed of the State, the Capital, the Nation, the Religion, the Ideology, in fact the man himself. We can only do this in one way – by AGREEMENT. T

The PLAN-8 is just a model for us that needs to be put it into practice.

With this Book, I address you with the hope that you will help me realize my ideas, is record my lecture on the crisis and possible optimal solution.

I would also like to put this lecture in English version on YouTube.

My postgraduate professor, to whom I gave my reading material, said that this was a different philosophy. And it is different, because it aims to ensure the optimal creation of social wealth, that is, the development of an economy with a parallel satisfaction of human greed in the "virtual world", ie the financial markets.

This is a different concept of thinking, created by my own philosophy, and for me philosophy is a way of personal reflection that determines how you think and decide. This concept is not a concept of today's economic theory based solely on satisfying the interests of the rich. Economy has developed the ways to achieve those interests - profit, rent, interest, yield, dividends, stocks and the like. The aim of socialisam was to maximize social wealth, and that is why in the bookkeeping of socialist enterprises, instead of profit, there were mutual funds, development funds, housing and other funds. The higher the income, the more work organisations benefited from their work. In capitalism, all surpluses belong to the owners of Capital.

Before the war, Yugoslavia was the 24th economic power of the world. In a couple of years it would have become one of the 20 most powerful which the capitalist powers could not even allow, because it would mean their total political collapse. Therefore, the key was to differentiate between religions. It has greatly helped to destroy the dangerous system of capitalism.

Politicians have taught the people to hate throughout history, and now this hatred of the people is being blamed on the people.

The main idea and goal of this program is to retain and satisfy interests but to ensure that the economy is optimally creative.

That is why I say that the formula for solving the crisis of economics is: CREATION + WEALTH Today's economic system works by the formula: CREATION – WEALTH. Wealth constantly subtracts from creation, making it impossible to create and further its wealth at the same time.

The crisis will surely turn into a depression of the global economic system.

I would like you to help me reach people who will be able to record my class.

The Croatian and English versions of the lectures should be placed on the Internet for the reason that more people will be reached by an interesting lecture. But this is really just a way to reach like-minded people who would organize themselves and work toward a goal - solving a crisis. It would be a great help to put this text as a separate link on your web site.

What I am writing is not meant to offend anyone. I just want to draw your attention to the fact that we are all equally guilty of this situation. We need to look the truth in the eye and realize that we can solve problems by working together globally.

I am not saying that there are no similar ideas that ask us to finally live in peace and start sharing the wealth of this beautiful planet. There is also talk of the so-called rule of some world government in the shadows, of all sorts of conspiracies, of a new world order. For me, these are all unreasonable things that would not succeed for the sole reason that they do not support and respect diversity, and above all are closing their eyes to human selfishness that has several faces (national, racial, religious, sexual, etc.).

First and foremost, the solution must ensure that human greed is further nourished. For this I give a solution in the "virtual world" WFIS, which retains all of the financial market "games" so far, but with the upgrade to serve the mission of building a culture of love - bonuses or minuses for government bonds as evaluations of their policies.

Today we have a case that financial elite is collecting more money through multinational corporations - just as in the Roman Empire, money is increasingly going in this direction: Emperor- Upper Class –Imperator - Upper Class Or as we now have it: State -Financial Capitalists - State - Financial Capitalists ...

I would like to end the lecture with a request that at the entrance to the hall of the future WEO building needs to be placed a picture of a little starved black boy with a vulture waiting to attack.

Below that picture there should be the text: "Only those with conscience can enter these premises."

I'm not saying that today's people have no love and compassion. They do. But they do not have courage for humanity.

Love makes us selfish. It makes us realize our wishes and those of the ones we love.

We do not want to share our resources out of selfishness, which is why hatred (religious, national, racial, political ...) arises.

Humanity, however, gives us courage to protect the weak from evil.

It gives us power to protect others from ourselves.

Capitalist should know that they can have the money, but they also have to share it with us.

I turn to you to help me achieve my goal: to reach the public with these ideas and philosophy. You certainly have your own ideas for how to complete this "PLAN 8". The man himself is powerless, but a team of experts accomplishes the goal in most cases.

I can assure you that this would have a great resonance in all walks of life, and especially in those who call themselves the creators of the new world order. They strive and work to globalize the economy to simplify their economic and financial goals. But what they do not know is that the system they are using in order to achieve economic and financial gain is dangerous – it has cycles and threatens to grow into chaos. Economy theorists who claim that such an economic system is sustainable and that it can automatically solve any problems that arise in its functioning are misleading us.

Such a system is not sustainable without setting limits to monopoly and profit. When they understand this and accept the fact that we need to provide a system that allows for an equal distribution of resources. This distribution also includes distribution of financial resources.

The history has shown that INTEREST needs an AGREEMENT. Now the price of financial capital must be determined. It has been a long time since it could have been accumulated spontaneously and without control. This could have been done due to the globalization of the market and the overall consumer borrowing. But now we have reached the edge beyond which it is impossible to go. The monopoly determines prices and not the market. We need to agree with the monopolists in the financial markets on the price of capital we are able to pay.

AGREEMENT + INTEREST is a tried and tested formula. It is time for this kind of arrangement because we are walking along the edge of the abyss, beyond which there is no turning back.

Let's stop the wars. Let's stop being a pack of savages and become a community of people.

This must come at all costs to those who rule this world, they must know that we are not malicious, but that because of their superficiality and ignorance they are harming themselves and all of us.

Those who brought us to this crisis have the power and the ability to solve it. They just need to agree and organize the economic system differently.

Current economy is increasingly reduced to trading: energy, medicines and food.

Imagine now only the first situation, the state no longer has money for medicines, your sick child lies in bed and struggles for life, you know what medicine can save him but no one has the money to lend you for that medicine. The only thing you can do is pray to God to help your angel in his fight for life.

Or another situation; The state no longer has money for food, you can't even get money from the Church because there are too many hungry people. What little you manage to earn you bring home, gather your angels at the table and thank God there is at least some food on your table today.

The third situation, the State goes to War. You have to let your angel fight for the state. What you do is ask God for them to stay alive. I am not saying that you have to lose faith in God, but I need to have faith in people that they are ready to make change.

There is an old saying "Help yourself and God will help you." Capital and the Churches want to rule our lives - one wants to rule our body and the other wants to rule our soul. And both do it for their own interest only. Not for our good. On the contrary - their efforts lead to the destruction of us. We become victims of their interests and efforts. They act and deceive us, and we are stupid, blind, hungry and eventually both physically and spiritually dead.

There are 3 phases in the preparation of this lecture;

1. Record the lecture in secret
2. the lecture recording should be sent at the speed of light, the internet or diplomatic channels to your 20 most powerful economic countries - which means to the right place at the right time and to the right person, because if we send the Americans or Germany first, they would then suspend everything and watch how to use it only for their own interest - and the whole process falls apart because of selfishness
3. after sending the recording of the lecture, the President sends a message to the Presidents of all 20, that she and her associates are available 24 hours a day and collect comments, suggestions or comments and gives them a 30 day deadline - unless they agree on the implementation of the PLAN 8 - the lecture movie goes to all the TV stations of the world and through all internet channels

We should start with the changes from the top down. If the top refuses it, then we use the tools of democracy and we go with the changes from the bottom - we go to the elections and the people choose a Government that has the will to change this situation. I will make my proposal - PLAN-8 for which both politicians and the people know EXACTLY what it offers. I even offer slogans for our political struggle: AGREEMENT + INTEREST
CREATION + WEALTH

If LOVE is part of our SOUL, then it is also the bearer of our SPIRIT, which fills our MIND with the positive charge necessary for evolution - reincarnation, telepathy, kinetics - and ultimately leads to the creative abilities of the mind - self-resurrection, as Jesus did.

LOVE is humiliated today, and greed is respected.

That is why we will become "FALLEN ANGELS" like the gray alien "bosses" and "servants".

A new NOAH'S ARK will appear - there will be a re-collection of the genetic material of all the females and males on this planet, into the labs of their spaceship

The RULLER (lobbies and elites who hold the ruler in their fist and seek money)
MIDDLE CLASS (intellectuals, experts)
PEOPLE

Civilizations based hierarchy are grounded on the exploitation of someone else's work - by coercion or manipulation (fooling a person to be MAX. useful as a frantic worker, frantic consumer, or frantic killer). Previously, exploitation was violent and now it is a psychological distortion of reality.

Physical pain was replaced by psychological.

Why are there more autistic children then ever? Chemistry is castrating-destroying parts of mothers' brain that manages and processes emotions.

Experts say that depression will soon be the most prevalent illness that people are suffering from. Just imagine how many autistic children are there going to be in the world

Many of our religions "claim" that love is the essence of our soul, a precondition for immortality.

SOUL - emotions, joy, sadness, anger SPIRIT - Morality, knowledge, creativity MIND- energy, tension and power that is strengthened by emotional and spiritual development that you can reincarnate into being, if you are worthy of being

There are 6 basic stages of the development-evolution of the SOUL-SPIRIT-MIND

- 1 - animal-instinct for food, reproduction, survival
- 2 - primitive - human, the urge to crave, greed, and this breeds hatred
- 3 - REINCARNATION - Learn to respect yourself, 1st Law of the Universe
- 4 - TELEPATHY - Learn to Respect Another 2nd Law of the Uni
- 5 - CYBERNETICS - Take responsibility for your actions 3rd Law
- 6 - THE BEING OF LIGHT - the energy of the mind enables the frequencies to create matter and energy, their mind is superior to matter and energy

ZEUS - thunder, lightning

HERA - goddess of creation

Previously, the greedy were overjoyed with a jug full of gold coins or a bag of money, and now they are fascinated by the screen full of numbers and curves.

The rich man does not give to the state or the church, only small, poor people do it Poor people pay taxes to the state, thus ensuring social solidarity among people and caring for the weaker.

The rich put their wealth in tax havens, not paying a penny of tax to the state, but through financial markets they create numbers-stock values for which they have no real coverage in the money supply, simply said they are making fools of themselves, and think they have outsmarted and fooled someone else.

Do you know what an EXACT fact is?

EXAC, RELIABLE, TRUE

Evil people give Jesus Christ an absolute and sure lie.

When evil people die and go before Jesus Christ, Jesus asks them;

- the rich-greedy-do you love a hungry man- he cries and says he does
 - pedophile - do you love the kid you raped - he cries and says he does
 - rapist - do you love the woman you raped - he cries and says he does
 - killers - do you love the people you killed - he cries in front of Jesus and says he does
 - chauvinist - do you love the woman you beat - he cries and lies that he does
 - the adulterers who cheated on their spouses and cry and lie they love their spouses
 - those who seduce and leave their partner cry and lie that they loved them
 - rasists - do you love the man of a different race – he says he does
 - nationalists - do they like people of different nations they say they do
 - thieves and liars - do they respect the people they lied to and they robbed - and they have tears in their eyes
 - selfish and ungrateful people - Jesus would ask them if they would be thankful for the good deed
 - pharmacist -Jesus would specifically ask them if they respect the health of their patients - they would lie sobbing to love the patients, knowing that they were creating chemicals that even the doctors did not understand, let alone the diseased
- Alienated and addicted - they cry before Jesus in the lie that they loved themselves

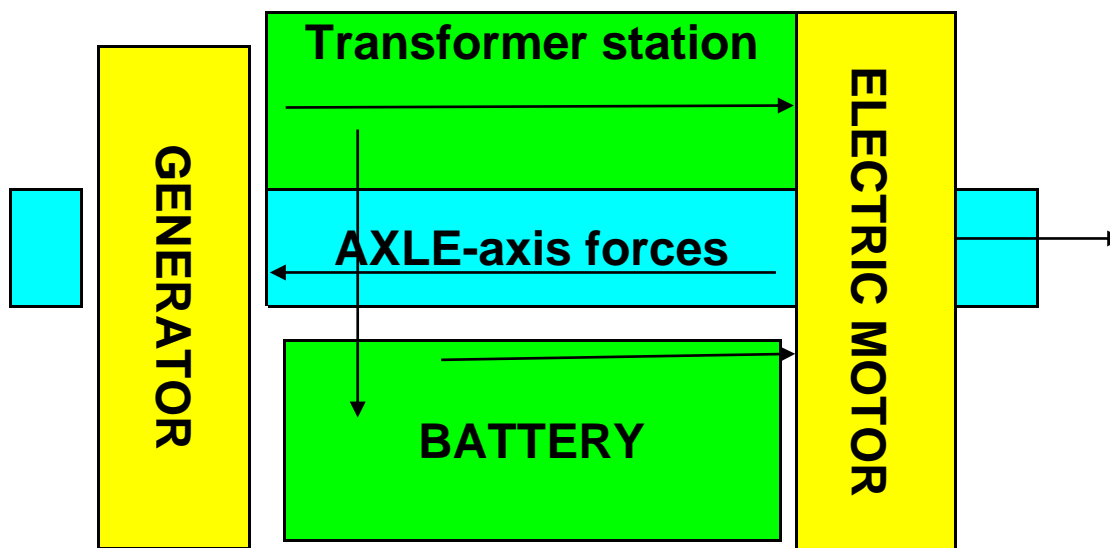

I am a representative of the new age – Aquarius. This is my era.

Deformed and evil people from the era of Pisces enter this era. They did not learn to love in the era of Pisces. How do I respect them. They are ready to lie to Jesus Christ even though their consciousness is making them cry. They are going to answer to me why they do not respect their victims. Not a single one of them respect their victims but consider their victims responsible for what happened to them.

The new economic system of M.O.E.S. - PLAN8

I have greate new ideas for energy:

AUTO-GENERATOR for the cars

My suggestion for engineers is to try to realize their old dream and make a "perpetum mobile".

I'm especially inviting Mr. Rimac, because he already has strong batteries developed, which is a prerequisite for an autogenerator.

A CAR GENERATOR, PERPETUM MOBILE (constant movement). But there must be a CIVILIZATION RENT for the use of a car generator because nothing is free. Roads and parking lots should be built with some money. NIKOLA TESLA said that the question of energy will be a question of life and death.

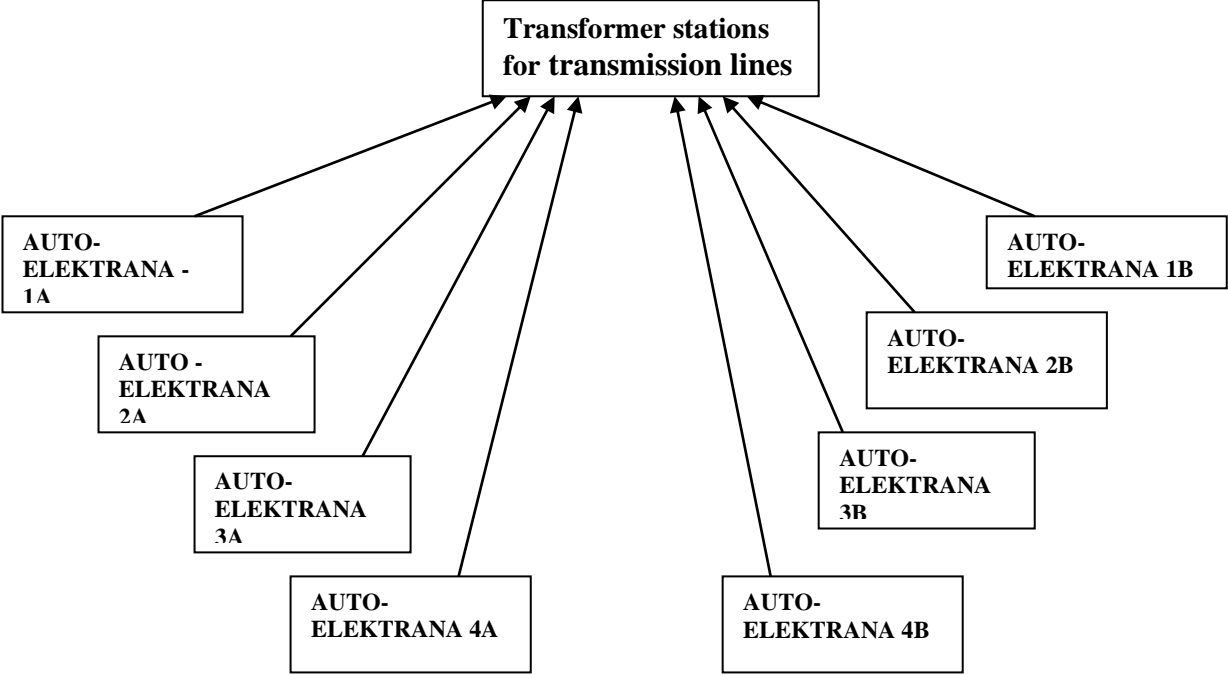

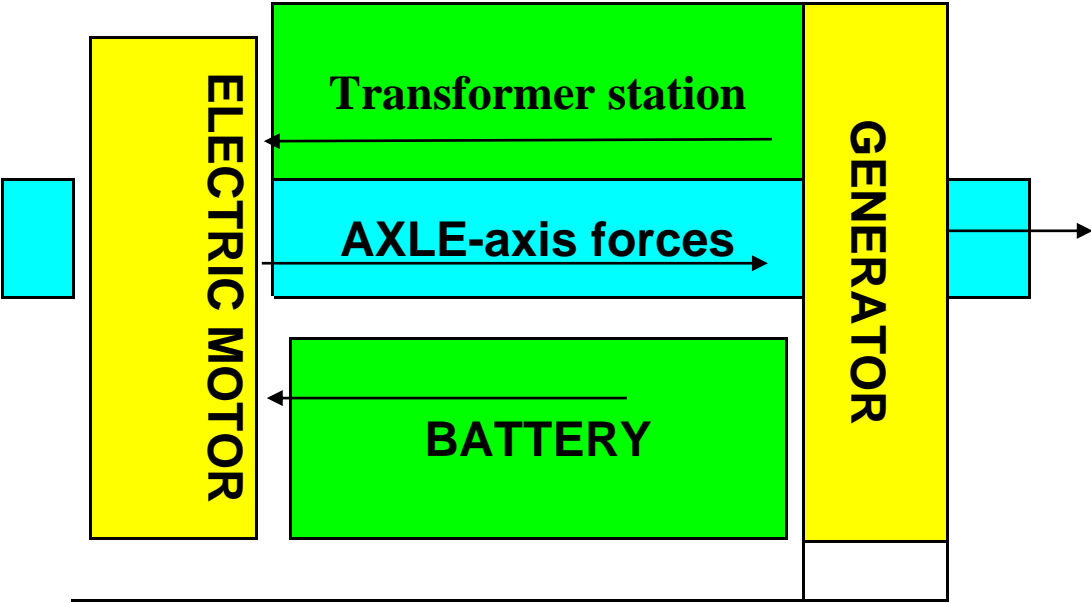

A NUMBER OF AUTO POWER PLANTS these power plants would not be large, but at least two rows of them can provide more energy than a nuclear power plant, and they consume nothing but the cost of their construction.

The AUTOGENERATOR battery is powered by an electric motor. The electric motor generates kinetic energy (movement energy - rotation) through the shaft, which generates current with the generator. The higher the motor speed, the higher the motor power and the higher the electricity production, so that it is also used for consumption (eg starting the vehicle). While the generator is running, the battery is not depleted. If the battery drops below 20%, the battery charger turns on automatically.

The substation (transformer station) converts the electricity produced by the generator into different intensities for the electric motor.

The rotor of the generator needs rotation, and to start the rotation in the electric motor it needs electricity. This device is actually a robot, which has a program to control all actions and processes in the device.

AUTO-ELEKTRANA – auto power station for electrical energy

I'm the sparkle that shines. Help it to bi shine! If you don't - can you see any other light at the end of the TUNNEL ?!

I do not offer Socialism, nor Capitalism, but COLLECTIVISM.

We need to collectively, attain great values for the material world, and in the virtual world, these new values increase and belong to stockholders in the virtual world.

The means and the wrath of the people give rise to new Hitlers. People kill and commit violence for selfish reasons. And finally, the lyrics of an artist;

"To whom we have sold our souls.
Why are our dreams broken.
There are just sadness and abyss
We destroy love
Celebrating the end"

THE SPIRIT OF NEW TIME – and we will not use this new age to change ourselves.

Thank you so much for reading this !!!!
